

SERBIA IN HEAT TO MARCH ON AUSTRIA

War Fever Provoked by Annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina May Start Conflict.

AUSTRIA NOW GUARDING HER FRONTIER

Belgrade, Oct. 8.—The clamor for war with Austria-Hungary because of the occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina is growing here constantly and scenes of wild enthusiasm are being witnessed on the streets of Belgrade.

This morning a mob of demonstrators forced its way into the precincts of the palace and demanded to see King Peter.

The attitude of the crowd was so threatening that troops and gendarmes finally had to be called out. They surrounded the palace and had to charge several times before the war-frenzied patriots were dispersed. The patriots are very much dissatisfied with the tone of the protest of Serbia against the occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

They declare it lacks vigor and does not represent the feeling of the nation which would rather go to war than to acquiesce in this act of Austria-Hungary. There is a steady flow of telegrams from the interior assuring the government of support in the shape of money, men and arms in the event of hostilities.

VIENNA GUARDS FRONTIER.

Vienna, Oct. 8.—Information has reached the government that Serbia is planning the organization of a guerrilla warfare in Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is proposed to flood these two provinces with armed bands.

Austria is taking precautionary steps to protect her frontier. The railroad tunnel near the fortress of Peterwardein, in Hungary, is now held by troops.

The Fremdenblatt, the mouthpiece of the foreign office, declares today that the proposed conference of the powers to discuss the Balkan situation will not meet with refusal from Austria-Hungary in principle, although whether or not the invitation will be accepted depends on the details of the program.

GREATER PROSPECT OF WAR.

London, Oct. 8.—More pessimistic feelings prevail here today with regard to the possible early settlement of the near eastern question. The demands of the Cretans for annexation to Greece and the protest of the Serbian government against the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina have introduced further difficulties. These, it is believed, will assuredly be finally overcome by the British government, but they are delaying the negotiations.

TURKEY MAY RETALIATE.

Constantinople, Oct. 8.—The proclamation of the union of the island of Crete with Greece may not be accepted by Turkey without retaliation. It is reported here today that the Turkish government has ordered four of its warships which are at present at Smyrna to proceed to the island of Samos. These vessels are the cruiser Medjidieh and three torpedo boats.

Samos is a Greek island and pays an annual tribute to Turkey.

The Greek minister to Turkey today presented to the Porte a communication from his government announcing that the people of Crete had spontaneously proclaimed the union of that island with Greece. He assured the Turkish government that Greece was not responsible for the proceedings of the Cretans and expressed the hope that this action would not disturb the present friendly relations between the two powers. It is feared here that this hope can hardly be realized.

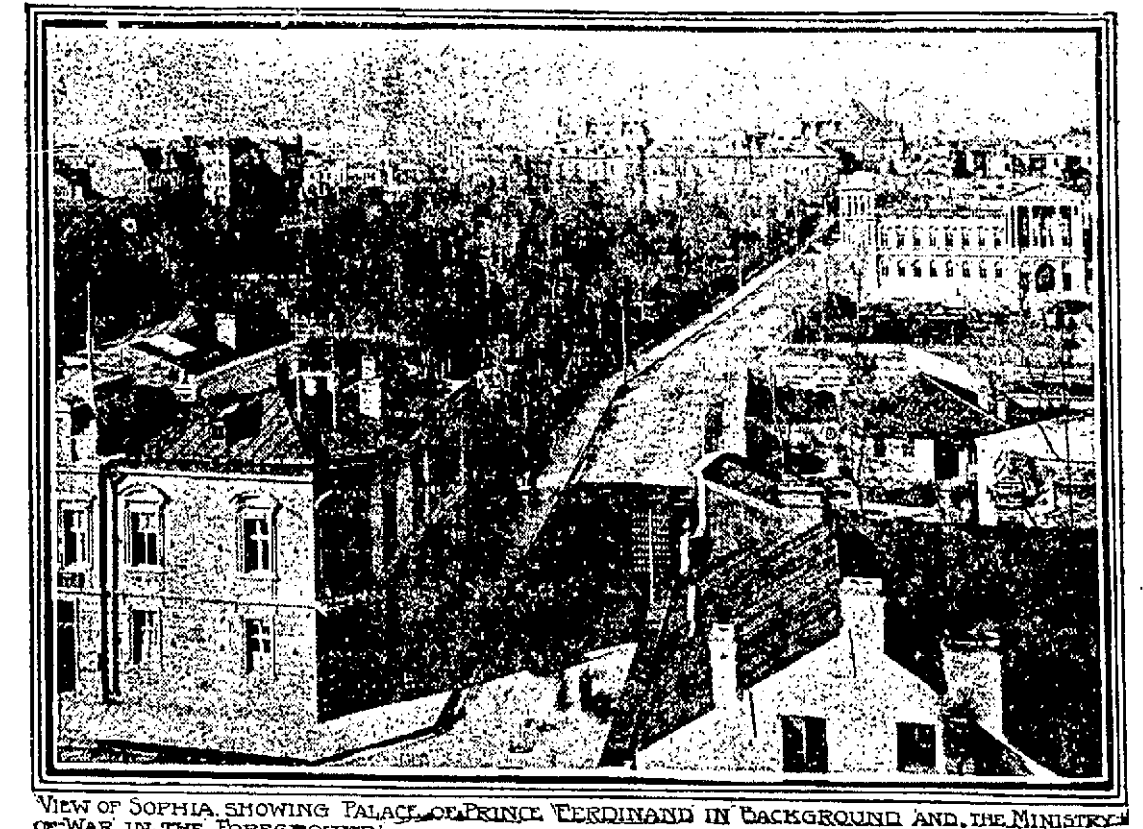

SERBIA'S PROCLAMATION.

Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 8.—The Serbian government, in its proclamation, protesting against the annexation by Austria-Hungary of Bosnia and Herzegovina, expresses the hope that the powers will respond to the appeal addressed to them for protection and justice.

"This new and flagrant violation of the Berlin treaty," the proclamation declares, "has been effected unilaterally by force to satisfy selfish interests and without regard to the grievous blow thus dealt to the feelings, interests and rights of the Serbian people."

"Serbia cannot, in this present case, obtain full satisfaction otherwise than the complete restoration of the situation with regard to Bosnia and Herzegovina as established by the treaty of Berlin. If this solution is regarded as absolutely impossible, the Serbian government, appealing to the sense of equity of the powers, de-

BRYAN WILL DEVOTE MORE TIME TO THE EAST

Will Speak in New York and Other Cities of the Empire State.

New York, Oct. 8.—That William J. Bryan will make another address in New York and visit upstate cities was the announcement made today by Vice Chairman Hudspeeth, of the democratic national committee.

Mr. Bryan, he said, will speak in Madison Square garden on October 26th, in Brooklyn on the 27th, in Albany on the 28th, in Syracuse on the 29th, in Buffalo on the 30th, and in Chicago on the 31st. Mr. Hudspeeth added that it is now expected that Mr. Bryan will wind up the campaign with a speech in Omaha, the night before election.

It was also announced today that John W. Kern, the party's vice presidential candidate, will make his first address of the campaign in New York City, on the night of October 13th, in Tammany hall.

Mr. Kern also will speak in Brooklyn, Boston, several Connecticut cities, Newark, Jersey City, on dates yet to be fixed.

The national committee, it was announced today, will make public on October 15th all the contributions to the campaign fund, and thereafter every day until the end of the campaign. To this statement it was added that the funds were coming in nicely.

ESCAPING GAS KILLS FOUR.

Italians in Waterbury Lodging House Are Found Dead.

Waterbury, Conn., Oct. 8.—(Herald.)—An Italian boarding house on Bleeker street, kept by Giuseppe Santoro, claimed four young Italian men for its victims early today, and but for the opportune passing of the house of Antonio De Marco, on his way home, the dead might have been more than twice that number.

Besides the dead, eight men and two women were found either unconscious or partly so from the gas fumes which they had breathed in, when the police, whom DeMarco had called, entered the house. One of the women is the wife of the proprietor. All of those still living were taken outside and medical aid was summoned. Four quickly recovered sufficiently to go to the homes of friends, but six others only slowly responded to the doctor's efforts.

Mrs. Santoro was sent to a hospital. De Marco told the police that his attention was first attracted to the house by moans and thinking that something was wrong he summoned the policemen.

MRS. TEN BROEK NOT INJURED.

While running smoothly along a road near Grand Rapids, an automobile in which Mrs. H. W. LeSage Ten Broek, formerly of this city, but now of Grand Rapids, was riding, with several others, suddenly skidded and turned turtle. Mrs. Ten Broek escaped any serious injuries, but the driver, Charles Brink, was pinned beneath the wreckage and was dead when his body was extricated. The other members of the party were slightly injured, but the former Fort Wayne woman was the most fortunate of all.

TAFT WILL CAMPAIGN THREE DAYS IN INDIANA

Beveridge and Fairbanks to Gridiron State With the Nominee.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—National Chairman Hitchcock announced today that beginning next Monday Mr. Taft would spend three days in his home state and after visiting Maryland, West Virginia and possibly Kentucky and Tennessee, the republican candidate will stump Indiana on October 22, 23 and 24. Mr. Hitchcock said:

"Some changes were made in Mr. Taft's plans today. I have talked with members of the Ohio state committee and have arranged to give Ohio three days, October 12, 13 and 14. The state committee is now arranging the itinerary. During the six days following the trip through Ohio Mr. Taft will speak in West Virginia, Maryland and possibly one day in Kentucky and one day in Tennessee."

"Mr. Taft will be in Indiana for three days commencing October 22, when with Senator Beveridge and Vice President Fairbanks they will begin the general wind-up of the campaign in that state."

"Mr. Taft will speak in several Connecticut cities during the daytime of October 26 and in Brooklyn the evening of the same day."

"Mr. Taft will be in New York all the week of October 26. On October 28 Mr. Taft, Governor Hughes with George A. Knight, of California, will speak at Madison Square Garden in New York city. This will probably be the biggest mass meeting of our campaign."

THE PARCELS POST WOULD PAY FOR RURAL MAIL

Speaker at Omaha Convention of Carriers Urges Such a Measure.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 8.—One of the features of today's session of the National Rural Letter Carriers' association was an address by D. M. Carr, of Omaha, who has been prominent in a movement to secure parcels post legislation.

Mr. Carr, on the matter of parcels post as planned by the postmaster general and presented in the Burnham and Kean bills introduced in the last congress, characterized them as among the most important legislative measures before the nation and of which the people in general are little informed. He showed by figures of cost that the Burnham bill, if enacted into law, would during the first year of its operation make the rural delivery part of the postal service self-sustaining. He said:

"There are more than 30,000 rural carriers. Each carrier to deliver only four maximum weight packages a day at the minimum rate would more than cover the entire expenses of maintenance of the rural delivery service."

He characterized the rural delivery as worth to the government and the Commoner Given Fine Reception at Convention in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—When W. J. Bryan, speaker of the day at the second session of the Deep Water Ways convention reached the Auditorium theater today the audience rose in a body cheering lustily and waving American flags. It was a repetition of the reception accorded William H. Taft yesterday. Previous to the arrival of the distinguished Nebraskan, P. G. Renneck, of Peoria, entertained the

JACKSON NOT READY TO SUBMIT HIS TESTIMONY

Remonstrance Goes Over While He Runs Without License.

At the request of Attorney John W. Eggeman, who wanted to take some depositions today, the hearing of the remonstrance filed by Clarence F. Bicknell against issuing a saloon license to A. B. Jackson went over until Saturday morning.

Immediately after the postponement Judge Sol. A. Wood, who represents the remonstrator, took occasion to look over the record to see when Jackson's present license expired and found that it was out yesterday and that if he continues business until Saturday he does so at the risk of having affidavits filed against him under the blind tiger law.

Mr. Wood did not say whether there would be any proceedings against Jackson in case he continues to run his saloon but will probably produce evidence to the effect that he has been running for several days without the sanction of the law.

A great many witnesses have been summoned to testify before the commissioners embracing several members of the police force, who will be questioned as to the reputation of the place. B. H. Barnett, owner of the building has been summoned and ordered to bring along the lease which will show that Jackson is the lessee of the entire building including the rooms in which it is charged that gambling has been carried on.

Weber Case Delayed.

The hearing of the remonstrance against Ed Weber, who has asked a license to open a saloon at Baker street and Fairfield avenue, was delayed by a road case in which there was a legal argument over the establishment of a public highway in Perry township.

The objection to the Weber saloon is that it is in a residence district and is highly objectionable to the property owners. In event the grant is made the property owners will file affidavits every Sunday the place is kept open and will insist on prompt closing at 11 o'clock and will wage war on the place as soon as the doors are swung open."

CUBS BEAT GIANTS IN FINAL BATTLE

Heart-Breaking Pennant-Winning Game Played in New York to Record Crowd.

CHICAGO WON GAME BY 4 TO 2

Fell on Mighty Matthewson and Hammered Four Runs--The Great Battle Unique.

New York, Oct. 8.—By a score of 4 to 2, the Chicago team defeated the New York team and won thereby the championship of the National league. It was a heart-breaking contest between the Cubs and the Giants, and it was won in the third inning when the world's champions landed on mighty Matthewson and hammered out hits enough to send four runs over the plate.

It was a lead New York could not overcome, though in the seventh, with three men on bases, it looked perilous for the Cubs' lead.

Jack Pfeister, who started in to pitch for the Cubs, retired early, after New York had scored once and showed a disposition to hit him freely. Mordecai Brown took his place and pitched masterful ball.

Matthewson retired at the end of the seventh and Wittse was on the mound for the Giants when the eighth opened.

STORY OF GAME.

New York, Oct. 8.—Following is the story of the game in detail:

Ground rules agreed upon, a hit into the crowd good for two bases and one base allowed for over throw.

First Inning.

Chicago—Sheardard struck out. Evers out on a fast stop and throw. Herzog to Tenney. Schulte fanned out. No runs.

The crowd cheered wildly for Mathewson, who was in superb condition.

New York—Tenney took his base, being hit by the first ball Pfeister pitched. Herzog got a base on balls. Brennahan struck out and Herzog was caught off first (tremendous cheering) by Chance on Kling's throw. Donlin doubled to right, scoring Tenney. Chance claimed the hit was foul, but Umpire Johnstone differed with him. Seymour walked. Chance took Pfeister out of the box and substituted Mordecai Brown. Devlin fanned. One run.

Second Inning.

Chicago—Chance singled to right, but was caught napping off first. Mathewson to Tenney. Chance protested and was put out of the game; Moran was put off the field. Steinfeldt fanned. Howard batted in place of Hoffman and struck out. No runs.

New York—McCormick flied to Schulte. Bridwell went out the same way. Mathewson out. Tinker to Chance, a very fast play. No runs.

Third Inning.

Chicago—Tinker tripled to deep center; Kling singled to left center, scoring Tinker; Brown out to Tenney, unassisted. Kling going to second. Sheardard flied to Seymour, whose throw held Kling on second. Evers walked. Schulte doubled to left, scoring Kling. Chance doubled to right, scoring Evers and Schulte. Steinfeldt struck out. Four runs.

New York—Tenney singled to left. Herzog fouled out to Kling. Brennahan hit to left for a base. Donlin forced Brennahan at second, unassisted. No runs.

Fourth Inning.

Chicago—Howard out. Herzog to Tenney. Tinker was easy for Mathewson and Tenney. Kling flied to McCormick. No runs.

New York—Devlin out. Steinfeldt

MARSHALL REPLIES TO GOVERNOR HANLY'S CHALLENGE

Would Not Sign Bill to Repeal Option Law Unless Moore Law Stands.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 8.—"I have been asked by Governor Hanly if I would sign a certain bill prepared by him, repealing the county option law. To this I say 'No,' unless the legislature should also re-enact the Moore remonstrance law and give to the people a vote by townships and wards, as declared for in the democratic platform."

This was the answer of Thomas R. Marshall, democratic nominee for governor, to Governor Hanly's query at Crawfordville Monday night. Many did not understand the nominee's statement, and because it was indistinct to them, Mr. Marshall was asked after the meeting what he meant by it. He replied that he was not deciding judicial questions now, but that there is a question as to whether or not the Moore remonstrance law is now in effect. To make sure that it would remain in force, he said, he would have it re-enacted.

The challenge to which Mr. Marshall made this answer was issued by Governor Hanly when the state executive demanded to know if Mr. Marshall would sign the following bill prepared by the state executive:

"A bill for an act to repeal an act entitled 'an act to better regulate, restrict and control the sale of intoxicating liquors and providing for local option elections,' approved Sept. 26, 1908."

"Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of Indiana:

"Section 1. That an act entitled 'an act to better regulate, restrict and control the sale of intoxicating liquors and providing for local option elections,' approved Sept. 26, 1908, be and the same is hereby repealed."

"Section 2. Whereas, An emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act the same shall be in force from and after its passage."

Successful Treatment Depends Upon a Thorough and Scientific Examination.

DR. W. E. HARDMAN

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA 111 West Main St.

No physician can expect to CURE these CHRONIC and DEEP-SEATED diseases until he has made a thorough examination and definitely located the cause of the trouble. The human body is much too complicated for one man to thoroughly understand every part of it.

There are too many diseases that mankind is subject to for any one physician to fully understand and treat. Hence it becomes necessary in order to accomplish the best results to take up and make a special study of a certain region or a group of diseases that by their nature are allied to one another.

There are many who are satisfied by a hasty inquiry or a superficial examination, and are blindly led into given palliative remedies, which though temporarily relieving the symptoms, ultimately discourage the sufferer, because of a recurrence of the disease. I do not treat symptoms. I CURE the disease and the symptoms disappear.

Years of experience in the treatment of PELVIC, NERVOUS and CHRONIC DISEASES have enabled me to perfect methods that will POSITIVELY CURE where the ordinary methods have failed.

Thousands of men and women are dragging out lives of suffering and torture because of some chronic or deep-seated disease that is sapping their vitality, lessening their ambitions, breaking down their nervous system and as surely ruining their chances of successfully competing with their fellow men.

In this day of active competition to attain that measure of SUCCESS for which we were intended, it is absolutely necessary that all the faculties should be untimpaired.

Nearly all NERVOUS DISEASES, including NERVOUS BREAKDOWN, are the direct result of a disease of one or more of the Pelvic Organs.

TIME PROVES ALL THINGS AND WISE PEOPLE INVESTIGATE.

If you will give me just one-half the chance with your case I will give you the CURE you have paid others for.

VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, RUPTURE, PILES, FISTULA, ETC., cured without the knife and without detention from business.

BLOOD POISON—I use only the most advanced methods in the treatment of Blood Poison and kindred diseases.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT—Results from inflammation. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure about 90 per cent of all cases.

ECZEMA and other skin diseases quickly and permanently cured.

FREE EXAMINATION—I charge you nothing for this examination and if I accept your case for treatment the door of HEALTH is open for you, no matter what your past experience may have been.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery"—was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts, druggists and chemists. On direct medical men who recommended them as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

Senator Hemenway sees visions of 25,000 Taft plurality in Indiana next month. At the same time Senator Hemenway would feel a lot better if he could see a distinct vision of a republican legislature with the shadow of Governor Hanly as a senatorial aspirant blotted from the picture.

Short-tempered political partisans of both Bryan and Taft should take counsel from the conduct of their leaders when those two most distinguished gentlemen met at a banquet table in Chicago. for traffic. Some means should be employed to restore it to proper condition and to keep it so.

According to the campaign speeches of James S. Sherman the protective tariff is and has been all in all to the nation. High tariff has achieved all things in the view of the republican candidate for vice president. Industry without precedent, initiative without parallel and a land blessed beyond measure in fertility and in wealth and diversity of natural resources count for nothing. The valor of the revolutionary patriots, the wisdom of the fathers of the government and the thrift and industry of the people have not been operating causes either in the foundation or maintenance of the republic nor in creating its prosperity. What a miserable nation we must have been before the scintillating regime of the standpat! The country simply stood still until after the civil war, when ultra protection began its beneficial work.

This country, much engrossed by its own national campaign, is practically without interest in the Cuban national elections, which will come on before long. The Washington administration, however, is not without interest in the outcome of the elections in Cuba. The outcome may and doubtless will have a vital bearing on the future of that island as an independent nation. The result is expected to be close as it discloses the strength of the bitterly jealous political parties and it is very uncertain that the administration chosen will be able to ride out the storms of politics for any considerable period. Those who have closely watched the situation believe the withdrawal of American troops will mark the beginning of another season of turbulence. Some think the duration of the republic may equal the first term of the newly elected president, especially if business conditions continue prosperous throughout that time. Others believe the withdrawal of our troops will be the signal for fresh disorders that will necessitate speedy re-occupation. That such re-occupation will follow within a comparatively short time in any event is the opinion of most of the military authorities, except those whose official position compels them to adopt a more hopeful view. Bureau of Insular affairs authorities state, however, that the outlook for peaceful administration under a native government is better than they had anticipated, and that with fair luck it may reasonably be hoped the island will succeed in maintaining its autonomy under satisfactory conditions. They believe that the downfall of the Palma government might have been avoided had there been a stronger hand at the helm. Nevertheless, it is unmistakable that the more intelligent Cubans who are viewing the situation from Washington consider annexation at a comparatively early date certain. They do not contend that this will necessarily come about because of disorder, although that, they think, is likely. It may result, according to them, from considerations of commercial advantage pure and simple and the recognition of the benefits that would accrue to Cuba through the establishment of free trade with the United States.

FORT WAYNE WOMAN WAS INJURED IN FALL AT AUBURN

Mrs. Joseph Burger Suffers Broken Leg—Immense Crowd at Fair.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Joseph Burger, residing at 1706 East Wayne street, Fort Wayne, sustained a fractured leg in alighting from an interurban car in this city this morning. In company with Mrs. Didier, also of Fort Wayne, Mrs. Burger came to Auburn this morning to attend the annual free fall exhibit, and they were to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will McCaffrey for the day. In the crush which attended the egress of the crowd from the car Mrs. Burger sustained her fall. The injured woman was taken to the home of Mr. McCaffrey, where surgeons attended her.

The crowd at the fall exhibit today is immense. The interurban line has had many extra cars in operation and farmers by the thousands are in attendance. The exhibit of grains, fruits and other farm products is exceptionally fine, and it is said to be even better than that shown at the recent state fair.

The services for Succoth or the Festival of Tabernacles will be held in the synagogue on Friday evening at 7:45 and Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Rabbi Ettelson will preach on the topic of "Temporary Dwellings" on Friday evening and on "Fallow Ground" on Saturday morning.

IN THE CITY'S CHURCHES

CHapel Car St. Anthony WILL PAY A VISIT TO FORT WAYNE

Church on Wheels a Modern Missionary and Arouses Interest Everywhere.

The chapel car St. Anthony, of the Catholic Church Extension Society, located in Chicago, will visit Fort Wayne tomorrow, and after 11 a. m. will be on exhibition on the Pennsylvania tracks, where all who are interested, are invited to visit it. This announcement will undoubtedly be received with pleasure by many who are familiar with the great work that is being accomplished by the Extension Society and the chapel car. Thousands have seen the church-on-wheels as the car is frequently called, and have grown interested in its mission. There has been a demand from various sections of the country for an opportunity to view the car and the Extension Society is pleased to say that it has been able to release the car from active service on the missionary field for a few weeks, during which time it will visit this city. The car has just finished a trip through Wisconsin and Minnesota, where it has visited the following places: Milwaukee, Burlington, Waukegan, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Stevens Point, Marshfield, Waukegan, Stanley, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, St. Paul and Minneapolis. At each of these places large crowds visited the car.

The chapel car in appearance looks like an ordinary Pullman coach of the deep dark green variety used on the New York Central lines. At the top are the words "The Catholic Church Extension Society of the United States of America." In the center, where the name of the car appears is the inscription "Chapel Car St. Anthony."

The car is the gift of Hon. Ambrose Petry, of New York, one of the most distinguished Catholic citizens of the United States, who recently received from Pope Pius X, the honor of being created a Knight of St. Gregory the Great. Mr. Petry is president of the Commercial Securities company, and is prominent in financial circles in the east. The chapel car is a wonder of compactness and might be a convent chapel except that it is so obviously built for travel. It is not only a church-on-wheels, but a whole parochial establishment ready for the road. It is a marvel of comprehensiveness from the miniature organ at front door to the miniature kitchen at the rear. The car carries a complete chapel, with movable pews, having a seating capacity of eighty. It has private staterooms for the priests in charge, bathroom, dining room and kitchen. There is, however, precisely only one place for everything in this glorified Pullman that must serve for church, pastoral and at times episcopal residence.

As you enter the car you observe with complacency that the furnishings are elegant and complete, that the paneling and pews and altar niche are of polished mahogany, that the altar fittings are simple but sufficient, that the missionary's quarters are thoughtfully and comfortably provided for. Mr. Petry saw that all furnishings were supplied when he presented his gift.

The chapel car is in charge of Rev. William D. O'Brien, diocesan director of the Extension Society, and Assistant Secretary George C. Hennessy. Since its dedication a little more than a year ago the car has already done more to excite interest and arouse curiosity in the work of the Extension Society than any single agency of this progressive and successful missionary organization. It is no wonder that churches have sprung up in the track of the chapel car, that the sight and the use of it have stirred dormant faith and kindled desires for a sanctuary without wheels. Bishop Hennessy, of Wichita, Kan., who was the first to use the car, taking it out himself for six months into the farthest and neediest places in his diocese, speaks enthusiastically of its effectiveness as a missionary agency. Its pilgrimage through southern Kansas resulted in the building of eight churches, in the formation of even a larger number of congregations, and the resurrection of Catholicity in many settlements wherein faith was waning.

Since entering the field as a carrier of the Gospel into the byways and neglected corners of the country, the chapel car has traveled in twenty states and has been so successful that it is proposed to build two more traveling churches as the funds of the society increase. A thousand masses have been celebrated in it, and through its agency hundreds have received first communion and confirmation.

Thus have the sacraments been dispensed to many scattered children of the household of the faith. Where conditions would permit, parishes have been organized and struggling missionaries given assistance and encouragement in their soul-saving labors. The activities of the Extension Society have given a helpful, hopeful, encouraging look to the situation in the poor, sparsely settled rural district of the west and south, and it is both gratifying and inspiring to observe the efforts and zeal of the scattered little bands of Catholics, in behalf of whom the assistance of the society has been an impetus for renewed effort in the building and fostering of a little parish.

Rev. Francis Clement Kelley, D. D., LL. D., founder and president of the Extension Society, is one of the best known and most popular clergymen in the United States, and in recognition of his services in behalf of the church in this country, the degree of Doctor of Divinity was recently conferred on him by the University of Laval.

Father Kelley has a number of friends in this city, having visited here at various times, and on one occasion delivered a lecture on "The Yankee Volunteer" at the Library hall under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. The board of governors of the Extension Society is composed of prominent prelates, priests and laymen, representing the various sections of the country. Hon. William P. Breck, LL. D., of this city, is treasurer of the society. The first gift to the Extension Society was made by a newsboy who met the new president on the train as he was returning to his home after the first meeting in Chicago. The gift was only $1, but it was offered with a good heart and was the inspiration of many others. In the two years and a half following, the society has received and expended over $225,000.

It has built over one hundred and fifty little chapels, which, in turn, have preserved the faith for thousands of people. It has circulated over one million pieces of literature. It is supporting twenty-five students who are studying for the poorest places in the country, that, becoming priests, they may labor for souls. Through its inspiration, one of its board has established a college for the education of young Italian Americans for the priesthood among their own people, thus doing practical work in the care of the immigrants. It has established a fund to assist the bishops in the Philippine Islands in educating priests to take care of their seven millions of Catholics who have but few pastors for their spiritual needs. It has distributed thousands of articles of church furniture, vestments, altar supplies, etc., and has accomplished more good than the space of a brief article can give expression to.

The chapel car is well worth the seeing, and tomorrow, during its stay in Fort Wayne, will undoubtedly claim the same interest and attention that it has throughout its trip about the country.

Plymouth Church Affairs.
The Ladies' Society of Plymouth Congregational church will meet on Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Henry T. Sell, 327

West Wayne street. The hosts will be assisted by Mesdames W. F. Henderson, W. H. Windsor, H. Marriott, J. Watson, H. C. Proehl and Mrs. J. Metzner. This will be the annual meeting and the ladies are all urged to attend.

The opening fall meeting of the Men's club of Plymouth church will be held in the church parlors on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when Prof. Russell, of Earlham college, at Richmond, Ind., will give his famous address on "The Making of a Man."

Hon. Ambrose Petry, K. S. G., Donor of the Car.

The Young People's society of Christian Endeavor of Plymouth church will enjoy a dinner party this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schilling, on the Bluffton interurban road. Those who will attend are requested to leave the city on the 6:30 o'clock Bluffton interurban car and get off at stop No. 8.

The annual meeting of the congregation of Plymouth church on Wednesday evening was very largely attended and much enthusiasm was shown in the business transacted. At the election of officers F. S. Hunting was re-elected trustee; J. S. House was re-elected deacon; B. Paul Mossman was re-elected treasurer, and H. W. Bradtmiller re-elected clerk. Geo. A. Philbrick was elected Sunday school superintendent, succeeding A. G. Barry, and B. J. Griswold was re-elected assistant Sunday school superintendent. The reports read showed that over $6,000 had been raised by the congregation during the past year and that about $700 had been expended for missionary purposes. The church has now an enrollment of 512 members and nearly 300 attendants in the Sunday school. The spirit and progress of the church is intensely gratifying to the pastor, Dr. Henry T. Sell, and with the co-operation of his congregation excellent work is being accomplished. Following the business meeting there was a delightful social program and a buffet lunch was served. Mrs. L. P. Hubbard was in charge, assisted by an efficient committee.

M. E. Missionary Convention.
At the one day missionary convention held on Wednesday at Wayne street Methodist Episcopal church there was a brief session in the afternoon and a large and interesting meeting in the evening. "Home Missions, or America for Christ" was the theme and a stirring discourse was delivered by Rev. C. A. Rowand, pastor of the First M. E. church. Rev. W. P. Heron, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, delivered a comprehensive sermon on "Foreign Missions." On Friday the missionary convention will be held at Trinity M. E. church, the local pastors participating.

M. E. Missionary Convention.
At the Methodist Episcopal church at Hamilton, Ind., an all-day sub-district missionary convention opened this morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. A. M. S. Marble, pastor of the M. E. church of Angola, is chairman of Division A. Under which the convention in Hamilton is held, and will have charge of the meetings, assisted by pastors from adjoining churches. The second session was held this afternoon and the closing devotionals will be held this evening.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. Stuart Rehner, 323 Jackson street, on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A social program has been prepared and a large attendance is desired. A missionary convention will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. Dr. Frank Leung, of Wayne Street M. E. church, and Rev. Loren M. Edwards, of Simpson M. E. church, will deliver the sermons. Several vocal selections will be rendered at this service by the Lakeside male quartet. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Miss Lillian Deaher, who has been engaged in Presbyterian missionary work at Tabriz, Persia, and who is at home this season on a furlough, will take part in the meeting and hence the ladies are especially urged to be in attendance.

Baptist Delegates Appointed.

The mid-week devotional service at the First Baptist church on Wednesday evening was very largely attended and an altogether helpful and instructive sermon on "Spiritual Power" was delivered by Rev. John F. Vichert, who took for his text, "Not by might, nor by power; but by My Spirit saith the Lord," Zec. 4:6. Immediately after the prayer-meeting delegates were appointed for the Baptist state convention to open at the church next Tuesday morning. The following are life members and as such are entitled to a seat and a vote in the convention: C. F. Bicknell, S. F. Bowser, Mrs. S. F. Bowser, Mr. and Mrs. William Carter, E. W. Lewis, Mrs. Mason Long, Mrs. J. D. Pellens, Mrs. C. H. Philley, Miss Anna Philley, A. Z. Polhamus and Allen Zol-lars. The local church is entitled to eleven delegates and the following were chosen: Deacon Doty, Deacon Landis, Deacon Philley, Frank Dulin, Mrs. Hiram A. Philley, Mrs. John F. Vichert, Mrs. E. E. Morgan, Mrs. F. E. Zol-lars, Mrs. Grand, Mrs. Doty and Miss Parker.

A delegate from the Sunday school and also from the Baptist Young People's union will be chosen at a meeting on Sunday.

Standard Bearers Meeting.

Miss Hazel Schoub and Carl Tumbleson are the members of the social committee for this month.

BAN ON SECRET SOCIETIES.

Members Cannot Sit in Lutheran Synodical Conference.

This morning at the synodical conference at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, the question as to whether a member belonging to secret organizations was entitled to a seat and a vote in the synodical conference, was the occasion for a stirring discussion and it was unanimously agreed that a member belonging to secret organizations should not have a vote in the synodical conference. After the settlement of this question tion a paper entitled "How Many Uniformity of Liturgy and Congregational Singing Be Best Attained?" was presented and thoroughly discussed. The paper was prepared by Teacher G. F. Doepping and found considerable favor with the delegates. The ways and means of attaining uniformity of liturgy and congregational singing was still under discussion when the meeting adjourned at 11:30 o'clock.

Reports Received.

This afternoon reports were made by the following committees: President's report, examiners of applicants, finances, excises, missions, support of the needy young who wish to study, and reports of the different conferences.

This evening there will be a missionary session, the program to be as follows:

1. A statistical survey of the missionary activity of our district during the past ten years, and its resulting thoughts and suggestions; Rev. W. A. Bowman.

2. When establishing English congregations within the boundaries of German congregations how should the missionary proceed in order to avoid friction? Rev. Rose is requested to elucidate the subject from the standpoint of an English congregation and Rev. F. W. Albrecht from the standpoint of a German congregation.

The Opening Session.

The initial business meeting of the synodical conference opened on Wednesday afternoon by the chaplain, Rev. A. L. Nicklas, of Ann Arbor, Mich. The roll call showed present, seventy-one pastors, eleven teachers, forty-nine delegates, making a total of one hundred and thirty-one attendants. There were also present Rev. C. H. L. Schutte, of Columbus, O., president of the joint synod; Rev. J. Laufer, of the English district and Teacher J. F. Berger, of Columbus, O.

The president read an extensive and encouraging report of synodical affairs during the past year. The officers elected were as follows: President, the Rev. H. P. Dannecker, of Fort Wayne; vice-president, the Rev. B. H. D. Winterhoff, of Pemberville, O.; German secretary, the Rev. A. Berger, of Detroit, Mich.; English secretary, the Rev. I. Schilling, of Sandusky, O.; treasurer, Teacher J. Ballmer, of Oak Harbor, O.; organist, Teacher H. Zimmerman, and the Rev. T. Langendorf, of Woodville, O., was elected chaplain.

It was voted that all afternoon sessions be opened with services in English. Rev. M. L. Frodrick, of Lucky, O., was appointed reporter for the city German papers and the Lutheran Kirchen Zeitung. Rev. W. A. Bowman, of Fremont, O., was appointed reporter for the city English papers and also for the Lutheran Standard, of Columbus, O.

This is one of the largest of the twelve districts of the joint synod of Ohio. The district embraces a portion of three states of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, and has congregations in many of the important cities, such as Cleveland, Sandusky, Toledo, Bellevue, Fremont, Fectoria, Marion and other towns in Ohio; Fort Wayne, Goshen and other towns in Ohio; Fort Wayne, Goshen and other towns in Indiana, and Detroit, Ann Arbor, Wyandotte and other towns in Michigan. Some 100 congregations, 90 pastors, 24,000 communicant members and 25 parochial teachers belong to this district, which was organized in September, 1851, at Perrysburg, O., Rev. J. J. Bellhaz, of Tiffin, O., being the first president, and Rev. G. Cronenwett, of Woodville, the first secretary.

At the evening session the president appointed the committees that made reports this afternoon.

SOCIETY

With their anticipation of a pleasant ride to Bluffton and a fine dinner at the Bliss house on their arrival there, about to be realized, a company of ladies met their hostesses, the Misses Swinney, at the Interurban station at noon today. This made the second trip to the same destination which a number of the guests had enjoyed and even had it been the first one they would have been assured of the best of entertainment as the "Swinney parties" are always a delight to the participants. The guests of today included Mesdames J. H. Jacobs, Will Brackenridge, A. E. Bulson, Minnie Graves Brown, W. P. Breen, G. D. Crane, A. J. Detzer, C. D. Emmons, Max Fisher, B. J. Griswold, Susan Hoffman, A. E. Hoffman, F. J. Hayden, C. S. Knight, Hugh Kegan, E. H. McDonald, G. W. McCaskey, S. L. Morris, Stephen Morris, Walter Olds, H. G. Olds, M. F. Porter, Pevear, A. H. Perfect, F. E. Stouder, James Smith, J. I. White, E. F. Yarnelle, S. D. Hanna, Miss Merrill, Miss Ward, Miss Kate Hamilton, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss MacDougal, and from Bluffton Mrs. Nimmans, Mrs. Locke and Mrs. Deams.

Mrs. T. R. Spalding will entertain the Philomath club tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. A. L. Messing has returned from a visit with relatives in Lafayette.

Will Barker has returned from a visit with his parents in Worthington, Ind.

C. J. Rear, of Norfolk, Va., has returned home after a two weeks' visit in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward White have returned from a western trip of several weeks' duration.

Mrs. Eugene Coleman and daughter,

Virginia, of Warsaw, are guests of Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Byrer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glenn, of Chicago, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Glenn, of West DeWald street.

Mrs. Warren Williams, of Kendallville, was the guest today of Mrs. R. L. Magee, of West Berry street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKiernan and Mrs. A. Kalbacher and daughter have gone to West Baden for a two weeks' outing.

Mrs. E. J. Carpenter and daughter, of West Creighton avenue, have closed their cottage at Rome City and returned home.

Mrs. Robert Harding is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Emory Smith and little child, of Boston, Mass. Mrs. Smith is on her way to Decatur to visit her parents.

Mrs. Oscar Brokaw entertained the Embroidery club this afternoon and plans for giving a series of assembly dances this coming season were completely discussed.

There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Lutheran hospital tomorrow at the hospital, at which time the annual election of officers will be held.

Mrs. A. E. Houk went to Russellville, Ind., today to visit her mother and both ladies will visit in Pana, Ill., with relatives there. Mrs. Houk will be gone three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Turner left today for a visit to Des Moines and Sioux City, Iowa, in which cities they will visit a sister of Mr. Turner. They will be absent about two weeks.

Mrs. Jesse Evans and daughter, Miss Margaret, of Denver, Col., who have been here all summer visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shontz, of Runyon avenue, went to Chicago today to visit there for a few days before going home.

Miss Evelyn Fisher entertained the members of the T. A. G. club who are in the city, on Tuesday. Miss Hadji Dawson, who has recently returned from a trip abroad, was present and others were Misses Georgiana Bond, Jessie Orr, Alma Dreier, Virginia White, Esther Fleming and Edna Perrine.

Miss Jean, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Hoxey, entertained the members of the S. L. W. club at a supper party last evening. Mrs. Jack Sayres, Mrs. Frank Kress and Dennis McCarthy assisted the younger people in having a good time with games and music. Hilda and Clara McDuffy, Marguerite Schilling and Helen Panley are other members of the club.

Little Thelma Schreck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schreck, of 441 Baker street, celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary on Friday by entertaining a few small friends at a birthday party. Among the games that the children enjoyed was a peanut hunt and at 5 o'clock Mrs. Schreck served the company a delicious supper. There were fourteen guests.

The Athena club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Windsor, of 126 Masterson avenue, yesterday afternoon. The annual election of officers was held with this result: Mrs. Terry, president; Mrs. Bryson, vice president; Mrs. Anderson, secretary; Mrs. Sharp, treasurer. A contest of amusement followed the business meeting and Mrs. Elliott won the prize in it. A luncheon was served at 5 o'clock and Mrs. Windsor's daughter, Mrs. Shultz, assisted her at that time.

Miss Anna Rochell, of South Hanna street, celebrated her natal anniversary last evening with the aid of a number of friends who spent a pleasant time at her home. Cards and a supper were the entertainment. The dining room was decorated prettily with roses and sunlax. Miss May Crimmins and Miss Florence Moore rendered musical selections. Among the guests were Misses Cella Feist, Gertrude Noll, Annie Lowery, Lillian Tyler, May Sommers, Ollie Stankley, Clara Gladbach, Florence Moore, May Crimmins, Mr. and Mrs. James Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Landers, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Blank, Dick Baker, Clem Lamboler, Bert Burrows, Harry Michaels, Delbert Richman, John Alt.

A Country Party.
Mrs. G. W. Henderson, who lives north of the city, was the instigator of a delightful affair in the way of a surprise party which was given in honor of her nephew, Perle Helbert, of Ashtab, Ohio, on Tuesday evening. Mr. Helbert is a violinist and the guests arrived quietly while he and Mrs. William Tonkel, accompanist, were playing a selection. At the close of the music Mr. Helbert was astonished to hear the applause of a merry company of forty young people who had entered the room without his being aware of it. After the laughter over the surprise had subsided the young people played games and at midnight were served a delicious supper. Mrs. Henderson was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. M. H. Wheelock, and by Mrs. M. F. Shutt, William Tonkel and Jacob Popp. The guests were Misses Pearl Moss, Rachel Zentner, Jennie Hursh, Norah Holloper, Ernest Tonkel, Frances, Ruth, Eva and Mina Tonkel, Josie Otto, Edith Garman, Stella Gloyd, Bessie Shoaff, Elsie Deventer, Mabel Hirsch, Dora Hirsch, Mina Moudy, Mahala Moss, Marie Popp and the Messrs. Edwards—Evans.

The marriage of Miss Eldora Evans and Mr. A. A. Edwards took place Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the parsonage of Simpson M. E. church. Rev. L. M. Edwards performed the ceremony. The bride couple will make their home for the present with the bride's parents at 202 West Williams street.

FOR THE CHILDREN'S WARD.

The Committee of Hope Hospital Systemizes its Work.

There are now fifty members of the Hope hospital committee for the children's ward and work has been equally divided among the ladies who comprise the committee. At a meeting held this week with Mrs. George T. Ladd, it was decided to divide the committee into divisions, one for each month of the year. The respective chairmen and members of each division will then execute their own plans for securing funds for the children's ward. Anyone who becomes a member of the committee will be on the division of the one who has asked her to join. The chairmen, the month of their assignment and the members of the divisions are as follows: October—Mrs. L. C. Hunter, chairman, and Mrs. G. W. Potter, Mrs. A. L. Johns, Mrs. C. J. Lose; November—Mrs. G. W. McCaskey, chairman, and Mrs. James McKay, Mrs. Dietrich Meyer, Mrs. C. H. Worden; December—Mrs. F. E. Stouder, chairman, and Mrs. M. G. Brown, Mrs. James Fry, Mrs. H. L. Dreibelbiss; January, 1909—Mrs. John Thieme, chairman, and Mrs. R. L. Magee, Mrs. F. L. Taft, Mrs. E. T. Williams; February—Mrs. Lipes Thieme, chairman, and Mrs. A. E. Bulson, Mrs. A. E. Pauve, Miss Anna Lowry; March—Mrs. Theodore Wentz, chairman, and Miss Lida Woodworth, Mrs. A. T. Lukens, Mrs. G. T. Ladd; April—Mrs. P. D. Smyser, chairman, and Mrs. C. E. Perry, Miss Gertrude Green and Mrs. Robert Learmonth; May—Mrs. R. G. Thompson, chairman, and Miss Alice Branson, Mrs. Charles Cral and Mrs. Van Winkle; June—Mrs. J. N. Stud, chairman, and Mrs. Thomas Clark, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Hugh Dehl, Mrs. J. M. Robinson; July—Mrs. O. N. Guldin, chairman, and Mrs. D. N. Foster, Mrs. Fred Thieme, Mrs. Thwing; August—Mrs. S. B. Bond, chairman, and Mrs. M. S. Mahurin, Mrs. Edwin Dalmann, Mrs. Harry Nide; September—Mrs. W. E. Davis, chairman, and Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Orr, Mrs. Isabel Bradley, Mrs. C. Hetler.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

So few of us are content with the little pleasures. If we were, there would be more happiness in the world and far less discontent. But we scorn the little things which might interest and amuse us, and fret because we can't have the big ones.

Little pleasures are scarcely telling our friends about them. Perhaps that is why we think so little of them.—Home Chat.

WORK BY MISS RUTH MAXWELL OF "GIRLS CO."

This gown of soft Directoire satin sweeps in simple, dignified lines from the short, high waist line to the folds of the train. The richly embroidered "stomacher" and shoulder straps, the little tucked and embroidered oversleeve, the rows of tiny crocheted buttons emphasizing the lines of the skirt and falling in drop trimming from the edge of the bodice ornamentation, are distinctive features of this season. Even the smart little tassel tie falling over the square lace yoke marks this frock as a 1908-1909 model.

Strikingly graceful is the new arrangement of the veil, which is draped in mob cap fashion over the face and from there falls in soft clouds to the edge of the train.

Hair is Strengthened by Drying in the Sun After a Shampoo

A woman who has been in the habit of having her hair, after a shampoo, dried, either by heat or an electric fan, should change the method, for one of the greatest aids to scalp stimulation is lost if any other way than rubbing is employed.

Incidentally the heat drying process exhausts the natural oils, thus bringing on an unhealthy condition. Undoubtedly the quickest and easiest way of drying wet hair artificially is with heat, for no effort is required on the part of the operator, and time is saved. These two facts alone recommend the practice, but when a woman understands even the principles of hair cultivation she will see why rubbing is best.

To begin with, every one knows that massage is one of the best treatments the scalp can have to make the hair grow, for by these motions circulation is stimulated. Now, rubbing is not the same as massage, but it is a near approach. Added to that, keeping heat from the head means the retention of natural oils needed for nourishment, so it will be readily understood that to spread the locks over a radiator, or to put them in one of the hot bonnet affairs used by some professionals, is to do great harm to the roots.

Dry Hair by Combining in the Sunshine.

The ideal way of drying, both to soften and strengthen the hair, is by combining it in the sunshine and by rubbing. There is health for the head, as for the body, in the actinic rays of the sun, and as soon as the air becomes mild enough to sit in an open window, or out on a secluded piazza, during the drying period, no woman should neglect such an opportunity of giving the roots new strength.

There is no danger of the fresh air being injurious, for, on the contrary, it is stimulating.

The actual rubbing should be done with soft towels. I have heard some women object to bath towels for this purpose, saying that the lint comes off on the hair, but I have seen this happen only when very old towels were used, and in my opinion the absorbent quality of Turkish toweling and its softness render it highly desirable.

Try to Stimulate the Hair Roots.

From the time the hair is taken from the last rinsing water all that can be done to make the locks light and fluffy, as well as to stimulate the scalp. It is a great mistake to do as many women do, who dry their hair in the position in which they are accustomed to dress it. That is, if the coils are high, they keep the locks on top of the head while they are drying it. The effect of this treatment upon the roots is most pronounced. They get twisted, losing strength, and their force is taken quite as is that of a plant whose leaves are turned from the light. Hair will not flourish and grow strong that is trained in a contrary direction from

A Medicine That Appeals to Physicians—They Recognize Its Value—Dr. J. E. Ennis, of Atlanta, Ga., Tells the Truth About Vinol.

"I want people to know that I believe the most valuable cod liver oil preparation, the best body-builder, health-restorer and strength-creator known to medicine today is Vinol."

"I advise Vinol in my practice, and find it has no equal for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and for healing sore lungs."

"I have used Vinol in many cases of indigestion, mal-assimilation and for patients who have no appetite, were anaemic and run down, with splendid results. I have also found Vinol to be a boon to the aged."

"I believe Vinol to be well worthy of any honest physician's endorsement."—J. E. Ennis, M. D.

For old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles Vinol is unexcelled. Those who try Vinol and receive no benefit may have their money back. Meyer Bros., druggists, Fort Wayne. Three big stores.

PINGREE SHOE For Women

A shoe that hurts your foot is like an ill-natured companion—keeps you in bad temper, too. A shoe that really fits the foot is a strong aid to solid comfort, and therefore to good cheer. Women who wear PINGREE shoes are cheerful women because their feet are always comfortable. They are economical women, because PINGREE SHOES are made of the finest and most carefully selected stock, and by workmanship which has no superior in the shoe making industry.

Style No. 176

as shown in the cut is a ladies tan calf street boot, the new and dressy wear top, a new creation for early Fall.

Some shoes have style or fit well, and some may give satisfactory wear.

True economy is only reached when all three are combined—as in

Filling Glasses

In filling the glasses fill to the brim, for in the process of cooling they will shrink enough to allow for the pouring on of a quarter of an inch of melted paraffine, which will keep out the air and preserve the jelly.

To Prepare the Paraffine.

Get half a pound of paraffine and shave it into a pitcher or small dish from which it can be easily poured and melt by setting into hot water or over the tea kettle. While the jelly is still warm pour a layer of paraffine over the top. It can then be covered with the usual tin cover or simply wrapped with paper, as there is no danger of spoiling. When needed for the table slip off the paraffine and put it away to be used again.

The Comparative Cost of Jelly.

In estimating the comparative cost of jelly and marmalade, jelly will be found to be worth twice as much as the marmalade. Jelly costs about two-thirds of the price of the fruit used, the marmalade one-third.

Where to Keep Jellies.

All jellies should be kept where it is cool and dark. If you have no dry cellar or dark closet, cover the shelves of any cool closet with black cotton and hang a curtain of the same over the fruit.

Inasmuch as a paid article appeared in the Sentinel issue of October 7th, over the signature of Geo. H. Krudop and Dick Thiele, representing the Coal Dealers' association, and inasmuch as said article reflected upon the integrity of the business methods of the United Coal company, the latter company desires to make a true statement of affairs in order that the public may know that the statement published by the association was for the purpose of injuring the business of the United Coal company.

The coal dealers of Fort Wayne, as a combination, are arrayed against the United Coal company for the reason that it is able to sell coal at from fifty cents to a dollar a ton cheaper than any other dealer in Fort Wayne. The United can do this because its yards in twenty cities take the entire product of the mines it controls.

Now You Know Why the Coal Dealers' Association of Fort Wayne Has No Use for the United Coal Company

J. R. MORRIS MAKES EXPLANATION—OFFERS TO GIVE CITY SCALE WEIGHTS TO CUSTOMERS.

"In justice to the public, the United Coal Yards company and myself, I feel it my duty to publish to the citizens of Fort Wayne a true statement concerning the shortage of coal found on our wagon at the city scales on Saturday afternoon.

"I was called from the office about 1:30 o'clock. Before leaving I made up the slips for the ten teams in our employ and gave them to the yardman. Among these were slips for five tons of coal to be delivered at 309 North Calhoun street. As I left the office I instructed the drivers who were to take this coal to weigh it on the city scales, as I had made this arrangement when selling him the coal. I made out two tickets, one for three tons and one for two. Instead of following the weights on the slips the drivers loaded two and one-half tons of coal on each wagon, the result being that the first wagon fell short one-half ton. However, after our customer had received both loads of coal, he was perfectly satisfied and since that time has sold about fifty tons of coal for us among his friends.

"I wish further to say that any one, at any time, buying coal from the United Coal Yards company, can have the city weights with every load of coal carted to their homes.

"Respectfully,

"J. R. MORRIS, Manager,
"United Coal Yards Company."

STATE OF INDIANA,)

John Robert Morris, being duly sworn upon his oath, says that he is the general manager of the United Coal Yards company. Affiant further says, that the matters and facts set forth in the above and foregoing article are true.

JOHN ROBERT MORRIS.

My commission expires May 17, 1912.

The United Coal company is delivering to the citizens of Fort Wayne more than 300 tons of coal every week and cannot trace a dissatisfied customer. The quality of our coal is GUARANTEED to be of as good a quality as any sold by any other dealer; the weight is also GUARANTEED, and any customer who wishes it may have his coal weighed at the city scales.

BRYAN AND TAFT IN WARM HANDCLASP AT BANQUET

Big Rivals for Presidency Speak at Waterways Dinner—Bar Politics.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—William Howard Taft and William Jennings Bryan not only ate at the same board during the fourth annual dinner of the Chicago Association of Commerce last evening but they chatted smilingly, jested about the strain of the campaign, and even went so far as to exchange autographs.

It was the first time in eight years that the two had met. Away back when Mr. Bryan was running the second time for the presidency he met Judge Taft in California; and the renewal of the acquaintance was marked by a strong handclasp.

One laughed with his eyes and the other smiled with his lips, but if there was any difference in the degrees of warmth between the two it could not be detected on the surface.

A formal introduction, because of the occasion, was given by President Richard C. Hall, of the association, at either side of whom the candidates were seated at the middle of the long speakers' table; but it was not a moment after they had taken their places before they were leaning across his knees to pass a word, or were whispering behind his back as he arose to make an announcement.

Both Candidates Cheered. Both Taft and Bryan were received with enthusiasm upon their entrance into the crowded banquet hall of the Auditorium hotel. The demonstration was made for Mr. Bryan when he was the only hero on the scene, while the rousing cheers and hurrahs were shouted for Mr. Taft when he made a late entrance, and Mr. Bryan rose from his seat to join in the hand clapping.

The republican nominee had had a busy day. After delivering the opening address of the third convention of the Lakes to the Gulf Waterway association in the morning he had hurried down the state to Galesburg and back, arriving at the banquet hall just as the braised sweetbreads reached the tables.

The first warning that he was near the hall was the appearance of a detective who had been acting as one of his bodyguards, and after he had whispered his news it was not long in spreading through the crowd.

The orchestra struck up an air that sounded suspiciously like "We Won't Go Home Till Morning"—for the banquet could have been called "good fellowship dinner" as well as an "annual"—and 1,000 men, representing the financial and commercial interests of the Mississippi valley, were on their feet.

Taft Makes Appearance.

Through the wild throng, preceded by a burly person, who in football terms would be classed as "interference," Mr. Taft made his way to the speakers' table and passed down a row of smiles and extended hands to where President Hall was waiting.

Mr. Taft was compelled to pass Mr. Bryan's chair to reach his own, but President Hall was waiting with a purpose. He grasped the former secretary's hand and then "passed him along."

"Mr. Taft—Mr. Bryan," he said with careful enunciation.

The moment the hands of the two met a great shout went up that caused both candidates to smile and bow deeply.

Then another thunderbolt of applause roared out.

The two candidates bowed again and laughed as they caught the twinkle of amusement in each other's eyes.

Mr. Taft went on to his seat and the noise had not died out before he leaned across to his opponent for the presidency.

"Perhaps you will understand," he said, "why it is that I don't talk loud enough for you to hear me?"

"Yes, indeed," replied the other.

"Some one asked me the other day how my voice was and I told him it was just as good as yours."

Then they both enjoyed a hearty laugh.

Autographs Exchanged.

As the last course was being removed some one—and the charge is made against Don Farnsworth, one of Mr. Bryan's escort—started collecting autographs from those at the speakers' table.

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taft each had signed several of the elaborate programs when an inspiration came to the former. He signaled to his rediscovered friend, and their heads almost met behind the broad back of the chairman, who was announcing that 300 more diners—principally members of the association who gave way so that the guests of honor could find room in the main hall—were coming from the smaller banquet room of the hotel to hear the speeches.

There was a look of request in Mr. Bryan's eyes and one of approval in Mr. Taft's as they swung back to their places and the former handed over his program. The other autographs had been signed in pencil, but when the collector saw one of those instruments in the signer's hand he motioned in protest.

"No, I want it permanent," he said.

Difficult to Find Pen.

There was a hurried search for a fountain pen at the speakers' table, but nothing was discovered save a few silver mounted pencils. A search among the newspaper men failed similarly, but over among the journalists or "signed writers" several pens were produced simultaneously and one was handed along until it reached Mr. Bryan.

Testing it carefully, he passed it to Mr. Taft, who carefully wrote his name, returned the program to Mr. Bryan, and then turned over his own, pointing with the pen to the place where he wished his associate guest of honor to sign his name.

This exchange accomplished, they leaned back in their chairs and listened to a song that had been started by a volunteer double quartet.

Nominees' Addresses Non-Partisan.

The speeches of both Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan were non-partisan. This was in consonance with the wishes of the Chicago Association of Commerce, which is a non-partisan organization.

Besides Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan the speakers of the evening were A. C. Bartlett and David R. Forgan; Mr. Bartlett was the first speaker and Mr. Forgan was sandwiched in between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taft.

On introducing Mr. Bryan, President Hall said:

"As I look upon my distinguished associates on right and left, I am forced to resort to the familiar protestation of the perplexed lover 'how happy could I be with either were the other dear charmer away.'"

"The evolution of politics has brought to a commanding place in the eyes and regard of his countrymen a citizen of Nebraska. His life has been an honorable progress from the day he received his degree from his alma mater to the hour of his choice as standard bearer of one of the great national parties by legions of enthusiastic countrymen.

"With the principles of an American he has sought and held leadership in a career of courage, fidelity and kindness. Millions accept his captaincy, the energy of his service, the purity of his patriotism, gentlemen—Mr. Bryan."

Mr. Bryan was cheered to the echo as he rose to speak. Cheers and laughter followed the humorous touch that characterized his opening remarks.

Mr. Bryan's Address.

Mr. Bryan spoke in part as follows: "Mr. Chairman, Judge and Gentlemen—I appreciate the honor of being present on this occasion. I appreciate the generous words of the chairman in presenting me to you. I think it is a good omen when we can lay aside partisan feeling on an occasion like this and forgetting the things that separate us, remember the things that are more numerous and more important that unite us in the bonds of common citizenship. I think I can see signs of progress in politics. When I first began to run for president (laughter) there were no occasions of this kind. I think I note a larger charity, a broader liberality and a more kindly feeling than has some times prevailed in the past. Here the chairman of the representative committee meet, willing even in the heat of campaign to pause for a moment in the giving out of estimates. Here the treasurers of the respective committees suspend for a moment the investigation of the business conditions of those who send in checks. And here 'two distinguished' citizens at large meet, both uncertain as to which will be confirmed, we shall carry away delightful recollections of this occasion, for whatever the election may show we may remember one occasion when we were treated with equal consideration.

"I am glad to meet at this board one who has been honored by his party with leadership in a great campaign. I am glad to testify to my appreciation of his abilities and his virtues. If I am successful the victory will be the greater to have won from such, and if I am defeated the sorrow will be less to have been defeated by such.

"I am honored to be the guest of a commercial association, for I recognize the importance of commerce. Commerce is the second step in material progress. First comes production and then exchange. Without exchange production loses much of its value. Those who produce need commerce and commerce cannot exist without production. Commerce is a great moulding force in the world.

"Twelve years ago a statement was made and signed by five men, who stand at the head of five great railway orders and in that statement the world was told that $90,000 men were engaged as employees in the railway service.

Corporation a Step in Advance.

"The corporation is a step in advance. It enables people to do together what people could not do alone. It relieves those who co-operate of the embarrassments of partisanship and it substitutes larger operations and thus facilitates the work of exchange and no one who has estimated with intelligence the usefulness of the corporation will for one moment think of destroying the power that corporation gives for co-operative efforts.

"And so society accepting the corporation as an established fact is proceeding to enact such laws as may be necessary to make the corporations serve the purpose for which they were created and I am sure that the members of the association, this association, organized for the promotion of the city's interest, for the development of the city's commerce and for the advancement of the city's good, recognize that with the larger power that corporate action gives restriction is necessary. Man made the corporation for a material purpose. When God made man, he did not make the tallest man much taller than the smallest and he did not make the strongest man much stronger than the weakest, but when the law creates the corporate person that one man may be made a hundred, thousand, ten thousand, a million times stronger than the God-made man. When God made man he set a limit to his existence; that if he was a bad man he could be bad long."

Mr. Taft is Presented.

President Hall in a felicitous and brief speech of introduction then presented Mr. Taft, speaking as follows:

"In the fortunes of war we acquired alien and subject races. Our government assumed to lead them to the lofty eminence of American civilization. For the accomplishment of this purpose, the president sent to the Philippines a typical citizen and eminent counselor and a man with the courage of his convictions. He accomplished the high purpose of his mission, winning both the confidence of his countrymen and the love and gratitude of a nation to be. Success and honor have crowned his every effort in an active life as citizen, jurist, peace-maker and cabinet officer. Through all his career and in our insular possessions he has stood for the integrity of his government and the majesty of right. Gentlemen—Mr. Taft."

Mr. Taft, whose rising was greeted with another outbreak of violent cheering, prefaced his prepared speech with a few impromptu remarks which created laughter.

Mr. Taft's Address.

Judge Taft spoke in part as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, Mr. Bryan and Gentlemen of the Chicago Association of Commerce: I have only begun to run for the presidency, and I am glad to begin when the political amenities of the campaign are better understood.

"I am exceedingly glad to meet my distinguished opponent and fellow guest and forget the rivalries and disputes of the campaign in this most inspiring hospitality. And I reciprocate in every way and to the full his kindly and courteous words of respect and good will. With him I have recently been subjected to a considerable strain. But the experiences of today have been almost more than I could bear. One non-partisan speech is a good deal of a burden (Mr. Bryan leads in the merriment) when you are in other kinds of practice and to have to make three inside of nine hours I submit to my distinguished fellow guest and opponent is cruelly to animals.

"On behalf of our distinguished fellow guest and myself, in view of the fact I follow him. I tender thanks to the Citizens' Association of Chicago for relieving one of us in the selection of a cabinet. And this with entire deference to those other candidates for the presidency whose engagements prevented their attendance. (Laughter.)

Tribute to the Association.

"I think I know the reason for the being of this greatest commercial association in the United States. I think I know the chief object of its organization.

"It is to lend aid to Chicago's progress in every way possible and to study the defects of society and government as they may come to be known to the individual members of the association and to institute discussion and active propaganda to suggest and urge. It is to lend a hand in civic progress and to bring to bear in this the powerful force of opinion that can be exerted by the united commercial interests of this great metropolis. It has seemed to me that such an association as this was greatly interested in the prompt and efficient administration of justice and that it right well will lend its aid in an effort to remedy the inequalities in the administration of justice between the rich and the poor necessarily growing out of avoidable delays and unnecessary cost and expense to the litigants.

"In a republic like ours under popular control, with the dual form of government between the states and the United States, there are many politico-legal questions concerning the distribution of power under the federal constitution between the nation and the government and the states, concerning the division between the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the government, and concerning the limitations upon governmental action in respect to the rights of individuals, which, if undecided by some tribunal, might easily lead to domestic turbulence.

"Under our education as early interpreted, not however without bitter criticism and opposition, the supreme court of the United States became the ultimate arbiter in respect to most such great political questions.

"The judges of the country, both state and national, are good men. The venality in our judges is rare, and while the standard of judicial ability and learning may not always be as high as we should like to see it the provisions for review are such as generally give just, final judgments.

A Defect of the System.

"A defect of our system is seen in the unequal burden which the delays and expense of litigation impose on the poor litigant. The reform must be reached through the improvement in our judicial procedure. Our codes are generally too elaborate.

"A study of the English system, which consists of a few general principles laid down in a practice act, supplemented by rules of court, has worked with great benefit to the litigant and has given much more expedition. I believe a similar system could be adopted in this country with great benefit.

"So far as the litigant is concerned, one appeal is all that he should be entitled. It is better that the cases be all decided promptly even if a few are wrongly decided.

"Another method of getting rid of a great deal of litigation that takes up a great deal of time could be effected by the introduction of a system of settlement of damage suits by all employees against employers through official arbitration and without resort to jury trials. Such a system is working well in England, so I am informed.

"Again I believe a great reform might be effected especially in the federal courts, and I believe too in the state courts by a mandatory reduction of the court costs and fees.

"The salaries of the court officers should be fixed and should be paid out of the treasury of the county, state or national government as the case may be and fees should be reduced to as low a figure as possible, consistent with the reasonable discouragement of groundless and unnecessary litigation."

"CANDY" ROADS ARE LATEST

Government Will Experiment With Molasses in Building Highways in South.

In all flights of fancy it is probable that nobody except a scientist would go so far afield in research as to adopt molasses as a road-building material, but that is exactly what has been done. Assistant Chemist, Prevost Hubbard of Director Page's scientific corps is leveling a half-mile stretch of road for the laying of the first molasses road of history.

This molasses is the almost useless by-product of the great cane sugar refineries of the south and the beet sugar refineries of the west and south-west.

It is stickily sweet, nearly as black and as thick as tar, and almost as powerful as a binder. Having always been a waste product, it can be bought at a lower price than coal tar and in greater quantities.

When the quantity and the sticky consistency of this material was called to the attention of Director Page a number of months ago he conceived the idea that it might aid in solving the always difficult problem of dusty roads.

The molasses was blended with oils and lime water; was mixed with rock dust, with earth and with sand and tried out under heat and under water.

It behaved so well and held out such promises for ideal roads that the practical test of a real road was recently decided upon.

Slag, the useless by-product of the blast furnaces and "molasses" as the useless by-product of the sugar refineries may in a few years revolutionize country road building, create a demand for more extended roads in the states where those products are most easily to be had and add millions to the wealth of the country by putting a cash value on hitherto waste material.

While experts are laboring with these unique material experiments in east, south and middle west, another scientist, also from the office of public roads, is engaged at Independence, Kan., in trying to devise a method of constructing "oiled roads" analogous to the methods which have produced the famous oiled roads of southern California.

He is mixing heavy oils possessing pronounced asphaltic bases with natural soil and sand and compacting the preparation so formed with a tamping roller.

One stretch of this peculiar class of highway will be under construction within a few days.

The oiled roads of California have saved millions of dollars to the farmers and fruit growers of that fertile state in the last few years by suppressing the dust that formerly arose in blinding clouds with the passing of every vehicle.

Those dust clouds, floating to adjacent fields and orchards, depreciated the price of farm produce and lowered the values of real estate in a startling degree. The sprinkling of an oil was tried and the dust was held in check.

Then some of the roads were plowed and the oil mixed with the earth and the mass firmly rolled to a properly crowned surface. Splendid results followed in most instances.

Kansas has long been dust-ridden and the oiled roads now to be built there will, it is hoped, prove as beneficial to the people of that commonwealth as the California roads have to that state.

GET AFTER THE CHERRY SLUG

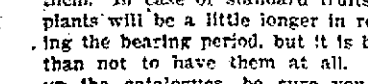

There are two broods of the cherry slug, the first appearing in June and the second in August or September. The mature cherry slug is a black, four-winged fly. The females are provided with a pair of saws, located in grooves under the abdomen, and are used in cutting slits in the leaf in which the eggs are deposited.

These worms are voracious eaters and feed upon the fleshy tissue of the leaves. In many instances the fleshy part is entirely removed, leaving only the larger veins and skeleton work. Professor A. T. Irwin offers the following advice regarding the destruction of the insect:

The insect can readily be destroyed in its worm stage by spraying with Paris green or other arsenical poison. Paris green may be applied as a liquid, using four ounces and eight ounces of lime to fifty gallons of water. If used as a dust take one pound of Paris green to twenty pounds of common flour or slaked lime. Apply in the morning while the dew is on and atmosphere is quiet.

GET ONE OF THESE

No farm equipment for more than 100 acres is complete without a manure spreader. Used properly by loading direct from the stalls, manure can be put upon the land every two or three days all during the winter, and in this way the very best possible benefit from the fertilizer can be derived.

MAILING-SIZE PLANTS

Many fine varieties of fruit as well as shrubbery are to be had very cheaply by ordering mailing-sized plants from a reliable firm or nurseryman. Many of these nurserymen make up a collection containing some excellent fruits which they offer at a cost that most of us can reach, and the plants are so well packed that with ordinary care and a small knowledge of their needs almost any one will succeed in growing every one of them. In case of standard fruits the plants will be a little longer in reaching the bearing period, but it is better than not to have them at all. Look up the catalogues, be sure you deal with a reliable, responsible firm and try the mailing-size plants.

NOTES OF THE SHEEPFOLD

In feeding cow's milk to lambs just dropped dilute it with about one-third water.

Teach the youngsters to nibble clean hay as soon as possible. Always provide a lamb creep, so the toddlers can feed undisturbed.

Keep salt always before the sheep, young and old.

It is a poor farmer who will feed good grain to sustain ticks on his sheep.

Do you know that timothy hay is not good for sheep, but that alfalfa and clover cannot be beaten?

If the boy is looking after the flock, teach him the first thing that sheep are dainty and will suffer for water rather than drink from a dirty vessel.

Do not dose the lambs or ewes every time they show signs of being off feed. Shut them up alone for a few days, change their feed and nature will generally right things. If you see one of the sheep limping around catch it and examine closely for foot rot. If there is the slightest sign of this disease get busy at once.

It is the early fat lamb that brings big money.

Bowel trouble can nearly always be traced directly to wrong feed.

If you are in doubt about feeding your sheep write to the director of your experiment station, tell him all your troubles and follow his advice.

If the lambkin has colic give him one dram of powdered ginger and one dram of laudanum in a tablespoon of water.

Your success will depend largely upon the quality of the animals you select to start with.

Don't be stingy when it comes to buying a ram. If you do not know a good one when you see it get somebody who does to select one for you and then pay the price without grumbling.

If you buy animals from another flock confine them by themselves for a week or so until you are quite sure there is no disease among them.

WORK IN THE POULTRY YARD

Many people are getting tired of eating pork and old dairy cows and are becoming eaters of chicken, mutton and veal, thus increasing the possibilities of the sheep and poultry business.

Farmers make a mistake when they select special purpose fowls. The number of cockerels hatched and raised make it essential that we do not lose sight of the money that comes in from that source.

When we find that we cannot use a ration for our laying hens that some one else has used successfully we may be sure that something is wrong with our flock or our methods.

As soon as we find a well-balanced ration that produces good results we should stick to it, for changes in the line of feeding are often expensive and produce heavy losses.

When poultry can eat and thrive on all kinds of food and produce good results it is very good evidence that they are constitutionally strong.

On most farms there are waste vegetables and other things that may be made palatable food for the poultry during the winter and spring. These mixed with table scraps, make an ideal breakfast for the farm flock about twice a week.

HOW TO REPOUT FERNS

Your ferns, to be at their best next winter, should be repotted now.

About two inches increase in the diameter of the pot is required.

A compost can be secured from the florist or made at home.

A good garden soil mixed with barnyard or commercial fertilizer is all that is needed.

Too little of the fertilizer is better than too much, which will burn the roots.

Broken bits of crockery must be placed over the hole in the bottom of the pot.

Three inches of dirt is then placed over this and leveled ready for the plant.

In removing the plant from the old pot care should be taken that the leaves are not injured.

To avoid this, strike the sides of the pot lightly but firmly with a trowel. Then place the pot on the side and, holding the plant with the left hand, strike the edge with the trowel.

KEEP AN EYE ON FEED MAN

Swindles in the Use of Rice Hulls in Stock Feed Exposed by Government Inspectors.

The rice mill men of some parts of the south are working a game on the northern farmers that is doing them no good. Last fall it was discovered that rice hulls had been shipped into Wisconsin and some other northern states, ostensibly to be used as an egg-packing material, but in all probability for use in adulterating concentrated feeds.

The fear expressed that unscrupulous shippers and feed dealers would use this injurious material for the latter purpose has proved well founded.

The feeds in question have been sold as rice bran, rice feed, rice mixed feed and rice middlings.

These feeds were sold at prices ranging from $12.50 to $16.00 per ton; only one sample was adulterated in the lot, and that one was sold under a false name.

The rice mills of the south recognize that three by-products are sold and used as food for live stock, viz., rice bran, rice polish and rice feed, the last feed being a mixture of the two first ones. All these are valuable feeds for farm animals, perhaps especially for milch cows, and are well spoken of by all who have used them.

Rice hulls are a dangerous material to feed to stock on account of the irritation which they are likely to cause of the mucous membrane of the digestive tract of the animals, through their barbed fibers, which are sharper than needle points.

In view of this fact, and on account of the adulteration of rice feeds which is evidently being practiced, buyers of concentrated feeding stuffs have every reason to be suspicious of this class of feeds and should not purchase them except on a written guaranty of purity, backed up by a guaranty of their contents of protein and fat, and then they should look into the business standing of the dealer of whom the feed is bought.

FENCE RAIL PHILOSOPHY

Our troubles are always magnified at short range.

Some men sow thistles and then pray for a good wheat crop.

The estimate our neighbors set upon our virtues are seldom too low.

We never have to go far to find somebody who deserves more sympathy than ourselves.

The satisfaction of owning a thoroughbred animal is worth something. Makes a man long for better things all around him.

Some people can see all the mistakes of their neighbors, but stumble blindly over their own.

The man who bosses his wife in public is generally the meekest animal on the place at home.

Money too often proves to be a padlock on our hearts to which no key can be found till too late.

The genuinely honest man is not always looking for thieves, but the disagreeably suspicious man will generally bear watching.

There is no sense in being too shrinkingly modest. We never criticize the hen for cackling when she lays an egg.

If we never replenish the flour barrel we cannot expect to keep the bottom out of sight. No more can we expect to grow profitable crops on land that is constantly robbed of fertility without putting anything back.

Many a "good fellow" who is popular at the store and saloon is dodged by his wife and children when he gets home.

The man who can make two blades of grass grow where one grew before is a public benefactor, but the man who can keep two weeds from growing where one grew before is almost as useful.

The hired man with a club can do more harm in the dairy herd in two minutes than the best dairymaid in the world can repair in a week.

We once knew an Illinois farmer who always drove his mules to town and back on a gallop, plowed corn half the night when the moon was shining and worked harder on Sunday than any other day. He got rich in time, but his wife died from overwork when she was 40, and last year the man himself, broken in health and mind, died in an insane asylum. There is a big sermon in this true story.

Enduring riches are not to be found in big farms, bulging corn cribs, great herds and fat bank accounts.

Some women never seem to realize how very smart their husbands are. At least they never tell about it in company.

AS THE HIRED MAN SEES IT

Never grab a sheep by the wool. It hurts.

Kicking a cow in the side does not induce her to "give down."

Sunshine and rain are a lazy farmer's friends up to the point where the weeds begin to show up. Then they vex him mightily.

Sometimes the boss forgets or doesn't know that the hired man can be a gentleman. In this case there is only one thing to do—the gentleman must hunt another job.

If you must smoke, don't do it around the farm. Of course if the boss does not object and smokes himself that is different. Another thing, always carry matches in a match safe and not loose in your pockets—may prevent a fire by that plan.

Have a place for empty barrels, boxes, baskets and poultry crates. And when a rainy day comes, if any need fixing up, repair them so they will be ready for use when required. Then you will not have to stop and put a hoop on some barrel or patch up a box that's needed for shipping away.

CAN SEX BE CONTROLLED?

Strong Evidence Animals With Marked Qualities Have Tendency to Produce One Sex.

BY W. R. GILBERT, Canadian Experiment Station.

What probably has most to do with the determination of sex is the vigor of the parents; it is difficult to see this in calves, as there is only one calf at a time, but it is much more clearly demonstrated in breeding poultry.

During the summer the cock is always separated from the hens (that is if the best results are wanted), and they are mated up again a couple of months before the breeding season commences.

It is universally found that at the beginning of the season cockerels largely predominate in the broods, and at the end of the season, when the par-

The weather bureau now says that it is not impossible in the near future to forecast the weather a week in advance. It is claimed that heavy frosts may be predicted from thirty-six to sixty hours in advance, which will enable farmers to save their crops.

There are now 2,000 fewer children in the small public schools of Kansas than there were in 1901. Negroes are not sending their children to school as regularly as they did ten years ago.

The first Dutch Belted cattle were brought to this country fifty years ago and from this small herd have descended all the animals of this breed that are in the United States at this time. This breed was originated in Germany about 100 years ago and are nearly all owned by the nobility, who refuse to permit any of the animals to leave that country.

A Kansas farmer named Thomas McDonald, living in Phillips county, started home while intoxicated, but neglected to unwind the reins from the post on the dashboard. The team ran away with McDonald, pulling on the reins until he was thrown out and killed.

CELERY CULTURE IN THE NORTH

I have good success in growing celery for the market, and do not believe this profitable plant is as generally grown as it should be.

I plant the seed in a bed in May, after the ground is thoroughly warm. I make the bed in rich, damp and not wet soil, pulverize it as finely as possible and drill the seed scantily in shallow rows, eight inches apart. As high as 5,000 plants may be secured from one ounce of seed. The seed germinates slowly, often taking two weeks or more to appear above ground. If the weather becomes dry I partially shade the young plants with strips of thin boards. When three inches high I clip off the tops of the leaves to make the plants stocky. In six weeks I transplant into larger beds, clipping off the top root as well as leaves, and set them two inches apart. In July I set the plants in rows five feet apart and eight inches apart in the row. When about a foot high I begin to draw earth against the rows and between the plants. Later this process is repeated until all the stalks and part of the leaves are covered. This keeps the stalks white and tender. When the growing season is over I place wide boards along the sides of the rows to blanch the stalks still more.

Unless the ground is richer than is necessary for most garden vegetables and is very moist celery will not give satisfaction. Unbleached ashes and well-rotted manure are the best fertilizers, and they must be applied liberally.

Mucky or damp black land, properly drained is best for celery. It is useless to try to grow it successfully in dry upland unless the land can be properly irrigated in some way.—William H. Underwood, Illinois.

Plants per acre. 22-inch rows, plants 12 inches..... 12,180 24-inch rows, plants 12 inches..... 10,000 27-inch rows, plants 10 inches..... 23,232 30-inch rows, plants 8 inches..... 28,198 33-inch rows, plants 7 1/2 inches..... 27,875

As with mangels, it is recommended that the effort be made to secure the maximum yield per row, and the use of 30-inch rows is advised, with plants 7 to 8 inches asunder. When the common turnips to three or four inches asunder if the variety grown is small, but six to eight inches are necessary for most of the varieties sown for stock feeding.

The land must be kept free from weeds. Since the plants grow quickly not more than three or four cultivations can be given, with intervals of seven to ten days, before the leaves meet in rows.

Frequent shallow tillage will go a long way toward insuring success. If the plants appear stunted at any time they should be helped by applying about 50 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre.

This should be applied when the leaves are dry, for if it comes in contact with them when wet and dissolves it will burn them. The land should be cultivated as soon as possible after the application is made.

A SENSIBLE FEEDING FLOOR

A feeding floor will save its cost in one season. It is impossible to estimate the amount of tons of corn that are wasted every year by being trampled into the mud and snow by hogs.

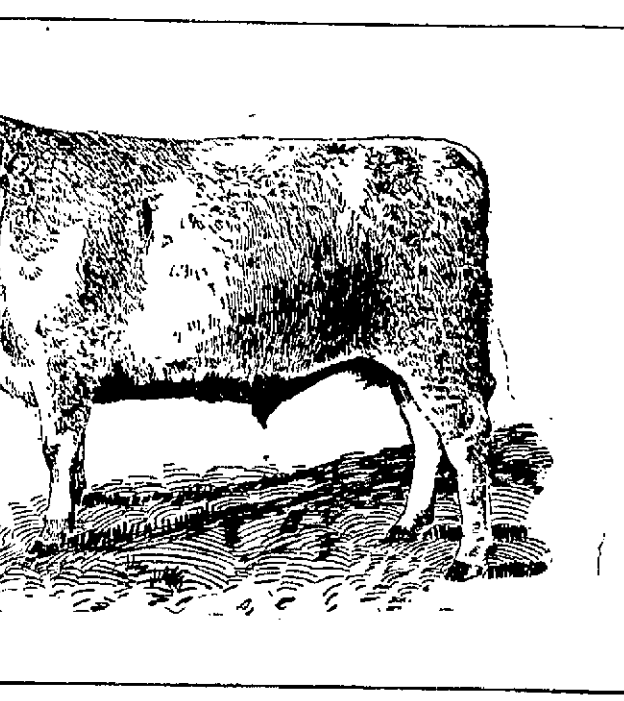

The floor should be from four to six inches from the ground, built solidly of good timbers, and around the edge should be nailed lightly a 2x4 scantling to prevent the corn from being scraped off into the mud.

FERTILIZER FOR PALMS

An excellent fertilizer for palms, ferns, aspidistra, lily and like slow-growing plants which do not require frequent potting is horn shavings. Most dealers sell it, and it is not expensive. Mixed with the soil it decomposes slowly, giving the roots food in small quantities as needed and lasting a long time. It is a concentrated fertilizer and a safe one, and has been tried satisfactorily.

TREATMENT OF BULBS

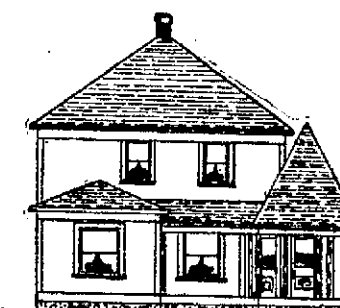

When potted bulbs break up into small, new ones, look after the drainage and avoid watering too freely. In most cases of this kind clogged drainage and keeping the soil too wet are the causes. Early blooming bulbs should be helped along by means of a weak fertilizer applied weekly, but do not try to force bulbs not yet ready to show bud.

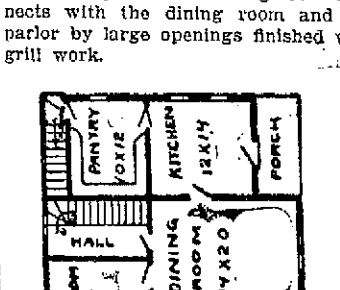

This steer is owned by the state farm of Kansas and last year won the championship for 2-year-olds at the International Live Stock Show. He is Kansas bred and raised, and is one of the best specimens of a good steer that has ever been shown in Chicago. He was not a promising calf, but took kindly to his feed and developed rapidly. He was not fed in an experimental way, but was treated like the other steers on the farm.

A SMALL BUT GOOD HOUSE

The accompanying illustrations show a very neat and attractive house for a farm home. It has three outside doors, one of which leads directly to the basement. The basement is also reached through the pantry, which is unusually large and well lighted and is connected with the kitchen by a double swing or kick door. The dining room is very large and the sitting room connects with the dining room and the parlor by large openings finished with grill work.

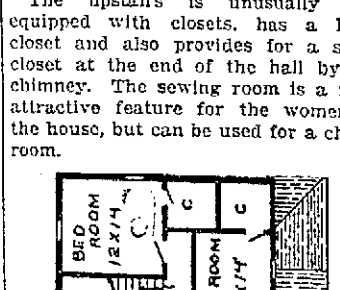

The upstairs is unusually well equipped with closets, has a linen closet and also provides for a small closet at the end of the hall by the chimney. The sewing room is a most attractive feature for the women of the house, but can be used for a child's room.

The exterior is attractive from either a front or side view. The small tower on the front porch can be done away with without changing either the floor or ceiling plans.

The basement is to have either a concrete or stone wall and can be made any size to suit the owner.

A committee of women from the domestic science department of the Women's Federation Clubs of Kansas City, accompanied by a city inspector, make regular visits to the dairies which supply milk to that town. Some of the dairymen do not like it, but there has been a great cleaning up during the last few months and the quality of the milk makes Kansas City babies rejoice.

ents are more or less exhausted by breeding, pullets largely predominate.

In the case of valuable fowls, as the whole of the eggs produced from a pen of hens are set, if the alternate period theory came in it would be reasonable to expect that cockerels and pullets would be in equal numbers, except for the unfertile eggs.

In the same way a young and vigorous bull, as a rule, gets more bull calves than an old one.

A farmer had on service a yearling bull and also a five-year-old. I do not pretend that one herd can give one any reliable criterion, still less thirteen cows, but he had six calves from the young bull, which were five bulls to one heifer.

Some cows have a decided tendency to breed bulls.

One cow I know of, out of eight or nine calves only once threw a heifer. In a case like this the decided tendency on the part of the cow entirely eclipses any tendency on the part of the bull in the opposite direction.

A strong, big-framed, beefy, vigorous cow, with a small milk yield, should have a tendency to breed bulls, while a heavy-milking cow, whose frame is more or less exhausted by a big milk yield, especially if she is served again soon after calving, should have a tendency to breed heifers. I do not mean to say that the "tendency" implies that every calf will be a heifer, but that the majority of the calves will be heifers.

A friend of mine who is a consulting physician with a large practice, tells me that he has noticed in families where the parents are delicate the girls invariably outnumber the boys. I am inclined to think it would be possible to increase the tendency to breed heifer calves by judicious breeding, but at the expense of constitution.

I think the best way to get heifer calves is to have an old, slow bull to do; whereas, if bulls are wanted, young, quick bulls should be kept, and care should be taken not to overwork them.

NOTES OF THE ORCHARD

It is not too late in northern latitudes to prune grape vines. But do not wait longer.

If the orchard was cultivated as carefully as the corn crop the yield of fruit would be a pleasant surprise to most of us.

Cherry trees should be pruned rather lightly. By proper pruning at the start you can have a low, bushy head and a good root growth.

Tobacco dust is death to the woolly aphid. Tobacco good enough for the pest can be raised on almost any farm.

Do not send your apples to market in one mess—big, little, good and wormy all together. Sort them carefully, making at least two sizes, and keep the sound ones separate. This work always pays well in the increased price the fruit brings.

When you prune young apple and pear trees go slow. Better take two or three years to get a neglected orchard in shape than to do it all at once. Heavy pruning brings too many water sprouts on apple trees.

The nature and habits of the strawberry require that tillage be continuous through the season. Down in the crown of the plant are being perfected fruit buds which are large or small, strong or weak, as the conditions for their development are favorable or unfavorable.

Two busy women can fatten up the bank account materially from a half-acre of strawberries. Back-aching work of course, but the sunshine is a cure for a great many ills—and is cheaper than medicine.

WOMAN'S NIGHTMARE

WOMAN'S NIGHTMARE

No woman can be happy without children; it is her nature to love them as much so as it is the beautiful and pure. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass is so full of dread that the thought fills her with apprehension. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either very painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event, and it is passed without any danger. This remedy is applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the crisis with but little suffering.

ADOPT BILL OF LADING.

Western Lines Follow Plan of Eastern Lines.

New York, Oct. 8.—All the 416 roads in the official classification territory, extending west to the Mississippi and south to the Ohio river, will put into effect on November 1st, new rules requiring all shipments to be made under a new form of bill of lading, which has been approved by the Interstate commerce commission.

The terms of the bill of lading determine the carriers' responsibility to the shipper in case of damage or loss. It is the belief of the railroads that the new bill of lading will greatly lessen the friction between the carriers and shippers in respect to claims for damages to freight.

In order to force the use of the new form of bill of lading the railroads will make the acceptance of the new form a condition of accepting freight at published rates. A shipper who does not ship under the new form of bill of lading will have to pay 10 per cent. additional to the published rate. The western railroads have practically decided to adopt the same uniform bill of lading that has been accepted by the eastern roads. It is understood that the western classification committee has asked the Interstate commerce commission for authority to adopt the provisions of the eastern bill of lading on November 1st, instead of the classification provisions which they have filed.

This action by the western roads is said to have greatly simplified the situation regarding the uniform bill of lading. Many of the shippers were dissatisfied with the eastern bill of lading because the western classification had eliminated the carriers' risk clause, which exacted a higher freight rate. The eastern bill of lading exacts a 10 per cent. advance in the regular rates if the bill of lading be not used.

Why Suffer?

If you suffer pain from any cause, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills will relieve it—and leave no bad after-effects. That's the important thing. Neither do they create a habit. More often the attacks become less frequent, or disappear altogether. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have no other effect except to relieve pain and quiet nervous irritation.

"We are never without Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. My husband and I are always subject to sick headache until we begin using these Pills, and they have broken them up entirely. Don't think they have had to use them for six months in a short time. They helped her right away, and she says she will never be without them again. Last winter my husband was taken with rheumatism on both sides, and I knew he would have died if it hadn't been for the Pills. In less than half an hour he was sweating, and went to bed and slept."

CHANGES AT MURRAY'S.

Creation of New Office Is Followed by Promotions.

The creation of the office of assistant treasurer at the Kerr Murray Manufacturing works and the appointment of A. J. Parisot to it has resulted in a number of changes at the works. Fred W. Freese has been employed as general superintendent of the factory work, succeeding Mr. Parisot; William Orlington has been made consulting engineer and he has been succeeded by T. N. Case in the office of chief engineer; W. D. Birbeck has been appointed chief draughtsman; M. Huntline enters the engineering department and he has been succeeded as foreman of the boiler wrought iron department by M. Lynch. These changes are the result of the big business the company has enjoyed for the past year or two.

CHRIS RHEIN AT WORK.

Chris Rhein has resumed his old place in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, after an absence of five months. Last spring he was caught between a gondola and the side of a bin in the iron yards south of the blacksmith shop and rolled over two or three times in a space that was hardly big enough to admit a person half the size of Mr. Rhein. He was badly injured about the hips and for awhile it seemed that he could never completely recover, but he will and will soon be as strong as ever, though he still feels the effects of the terrible injuries.

BEN ARMACK HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Armack, of Columbus, O., are spending a few days with relatives and friends in the city. Mr. Armack is now the superintendent of steel works in Columbus that give employment to a large number of men and is evidently prospering. He is a native of Fort Wayne and spent a number of years in the Pennsylvania shops in this city. He was chief electrician there ten or twelve years ago, being transferred to Columbus to take charge of the company's electric power plant and six years ago resigned to take his present position.

PROTEST AGAINST THE BILL.

The Ohio Grain Dealers, in session in Columbus Tuesday, unanimously adopted a resolution protesting against the uniform bill of lading adopted by the railroads to become effective November 1. The objectionable feature of the new bill of lading is that the railroads only assume a limited liability for shipments without extra charge and will charge 10 per cent. additional where full liability is assumed. This is said to be the first official action taken against the new bill of lading. The outcome will be watched with interest.

GOING TO SEE FATHER.

Benjamin F. and J. M. Singleton, machinists at the Wabash shops, will leave tomorrow for Brooklyn, N. Y., where their father, P. J. Singleton, is lying quite sick. The elder Singleton was so bad a few weeks ago that it was feared he could not recover, but there is an improvement in his condition and he promises to get well. P. J. Singleton worked in the railway shops in this city over thirty years, going east to work in the government navy yards at Brooklyn.

MOVING FOR FIRST TIME.

Adolph J. Weif, the well known Pennsylvania tinner, is laying off to move from a house which has been his home for fifty-six years into new quarters recently purchased on Masterson avenue. The house being vacated is located at 123 East Washington street and it was the home of Mr. Weif's parents and his birthplace. It will soon be torn down to give place to a more pretentious building. Mr. Weif has worked in the Pennsylvania tin shop ever since he was a boy in his teens.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO BOURBON.

The Pennsylvania company is handling hundreds of passengers into Bourbon today, the occasion being the "big day" of the county fair. The company sent out a special train this morning to handle the crowds from the stations east of Bourbon and particularly those from Warsaw.

CALLED TO MOBERLY.

Charles Bott has gone to Moberly Mo., to take a position with General Foreman E. B. Hughes in the Wabash shops. The young man learned the machinist's trade in the company's shops in this city, resigning there three or four months ago to engage in other work.

EXCURSION TO GRAND RAPIDS.

The G. R. & I. announces its twentieth annual farmers' excursion from this territory to Grand Rapids on Thursday, October 15. On the following Saturday the company will run a similar excursion into Grand Rapids, starting from Sturgis. Both will probably be well patronized. The excursion train from this city will leave here at 6 o'clock in the morning and arrive at Grand Rapids at 10:30 o'clock. Returning the train will leave Grand Rapids at 7 p. m.

BIG ORDER FOR CARS.

The Standard Steel Car company of Pittsburgh has just booked another order for 1,000 steel freight cars from the Chicago & Alton company. A few weeks ago the Alton placed a similar order with the Standard which resulted in the resumption of operations at the company's big plant at Hammond, Ind. Because of the favorable location it is said a good portion of the cars on the last order will be built at Hammond.

BUYING MANY CAR WHEELS.

So far this week the Wabash wheel inspector has inspected 1,100 car wheels at the Bass foundry and they are being sent to Decatur and Toledo at the rate of 200 per day. The Wabash is getting its freight car equipment in shape for a big business, which is expected to commence the latter part of this month.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Fred Leldorf, a Nickel Plate fireman, is fishing at Knox today.
H. B. Ashton, of the Nickel Plate round house, is sick and off duty.
E. Velvick is absent from his duties at the Kerr Murray works on account of sickness.

Albert Sheets, employed in the shop yards of the Wabash, is off duty on account of sickness.

Sickness is keeping Nickel Plate brakeman V. M. Grummons from his work on the road.

Al Burkas, who was sick a few days, resumed work at the Pennsylvania paint shop this morning.

R. S. Colwell, who has charge of the branch office of Bowser & Company at Chicago, is in the city.

Henry Carberry, of the Nickel Plate round house, has gone to Duluth, Minn., to visit relatives a week or two.

G. W. Hill, signal supervisor, is out on the Western division of the Pennsylvania looking over the interlocking plants.

W. Rodenbecker, of the boiler shop, and J. F. Tiernan, of the planing mills, Pennsylvania employees, are sick and off duty.

Engineer George Cooper, who has a local freight run on the Nickel Plate, is sick and Engineer Arthur Crapper has charge of the run.

Foreman M. S. Willson, of the testing room at the Electric works, is suffering from lumbago and was unable to get down to the shop this morning.

T. E. Tiernan, who was injured at the Pennsylvania store room some time ago by falling from a scaffold, was able to report for work this morning.

Next Saturday Mrs. G. M. Schwartz, wife of the Pennsylvania passenger car builder, will go to Delphos to visit friends a few days.

Car Builder C. M. Wolford, of the Pennsylvania, goes to Bourbon tomorrow to visit friends and attend the fair. Mrs. Wolford will accompany her husband.

After a week's absence, Machinists William Hensel and Paul Gehring resumed work at the Bass shops this morning. Thomas Saffon, of the same shop, is sick and off duty.

Mrs. Dildine, wife of General Foreman E. E. Dildine, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, returned from Pittsburgh last night. She had been visiting relatives in that city for ten days.

Nickel Plate Conductor C. M. Bushey has gone to Illinois to join his wife and visit relatives a week or two. Mrs. Bushey went to that state several days ago. She will return with her husband.

Secretary George Cressler, of the Kerr Murray works, left yesterday for Red Oak, Iowa, on business for the company. Alfred M. Cressler, treasurer of the company, is visiting in Haverhill, Mass.

Local Freight Conductor David W. Watterson, of the Nickel Plate, is taking a short lay off to attend to some private business. Conductor J.

W. Miller, of the same road, has gone to Pittsburgh, Ind., to visit friends.
Supt. M. L. Reynolds, of the Lake Shore, spent the afternoon here looking after transportation affairs for the company.

The Pennsylvania Special, No. 29, was one hour and forty-five minutes behind schedule time when it pulled into Fort Wayne this morning. The delay was caused on the eastern divisions.

H. J. Beckman, who had a toe mashed last week, resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning. Orin Opatz also reported there for duty this morning. He was sick a week with an affection of the throat.

A. R. Scheeler, of New Haven, took a position as boilermaker's helper at the Pennsylvania shops this morning. He was formerly employed at farming in Michigan. J. F. Benjamin, of Woodburn, took a position as machinist's helper in the erecting shop.

Harry Lowry has been appointed chief salesman on the Pacific coast for the National Biscuit company. He will have headquarters in Los Angeles and will leave for that city in a few days.

Henry Shuster, foreman of Pennsylvania shop carpenters, went to Dola, O., this morning on business for the company. The company has a big water and coal station at that place.

O. M. Ramey, telegraph operator at the Lake Shore depot, and Adolph Vanderley, landlord at the Lake Shore hotel, have gone to Jackson, Mich., to join Chief Clerk James Hayden, of the trainmaster's office, on a fishing and hunting expedition.

HIGHER VOLTAGE USED.

Traction Officials Explain Recent Lighting Tests.

Officials of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company explain that in the recent tests of the municipal lighting system in the public buildings a current of 110 voltage was used on lamps of 106 voltage. This fact, they assert, explains why there was an apparent showing that put the traction company's lighting at a disadvantage. The lamps in use, intended to carry only 106 volts of current, would most certainly show a higher candle power under the 110 volt current, but the life of the lamp, it is explained, would be reduced by something like one-half if the higher voltage were used.

Brother Gardner Makes Some Remarks on the Rabbit Foot.

THE FIRST COLORED MAN.

He Was a Mistah Ham and, According to the President, Has Brought Luck to All Those Who Have Followed His Footsteps.

[Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure.] As the president of the Limekiln club rose up to speak he placed a rabbit's foot on his left and another on his right, and after seriously regarding them for a moment he said:

"My friends, I reckon dat you all know dat de first col'd man bo'n into dis yere world was a Mistah Ham. What his foot was nobody seems to know. Mistah Ham has de honol of bein' de first man, black or white, to disklaber dat de rabbit's foot brought luck, and since dat time eb'ry col'd man has follered in his foot-steps.

"It has come to my knowledge dat Givendram Jones sleeps wid a rabbit's foot under his pillow at night.

"Dat Elder Penstock has carried one in his coatall pocket for de last forty years.

"Dat Waydown Bebee wears one tied to his left leg to keep de rheumatics away.

"Dat Samuel Shin beieves he would have been murdered by a ghost if he hadn't produced his rabbit's foot jest in de nick of time.

"Dat Kurnal White jilted de woman he was gwine to marry last month kase de rabbit's foot curled up a little.

"Dat Jedge Kahlif keeps burglars away from his cabin by bangin' a foot on de deab.

"I has heard all dis and a heap mo', and de time has come to tell you dat you an makin' fools of yourselves. De man who kin show me dat dar' an mo' luck in a rabbit's foot dan in a raw later or tarapin kin make $100 right away. In de first place, de rabbit is a fool animal. He can't fight, he can't roar, he can't crawl, and he don't know 'nuff to run straight. He jest goes foolin' around on a lilt till some body knocks him out and eats him up. He's skeered from de day he is bo'n to de hour of his death. Sunthin or somebody is alius arter him, and he never has any luck 'tall.

"In de second place, luck hain't comin' to nobody through any fool thing. You has got to git up mighty efly in de mornin' and hunt all day for luck. She'll come to you jest as quick if you are carryin' a head of cabbage under your arm as she will if you have a rabbit's foot tied to your neck.

Mistah Ham's idea.

"Mistah Ham got de idea dat dar was luck in a rabbit's foot. When and whar did it bring him luck? 'Cordin' to all de accounts I have read of him, he had a hard time of it in dis world, and he didn't have much of a funeral puercession when he finally passed away. How does it come, den, dat so many of you are follerin' Mistah Ham?

"Dar was a time in my life when I was a fool believer in de rabbit's foot. I was young, and it was an old nigger man dat told me about it. He got me to huntin' through graveyards at midnight in de second quarter of de moon to kill a rabbit. Lawd now ye, I was skeered to death for six months. Den I finally killed a rabbit and got both front paws. Den dat old nigger man told me I was heeled for anything dat come along, and I was fool 'nuff to believe it and bring down consequences on my head.

"I tackled a big col'd feller dat was arter my gal, and he walloped me so dat I didn't git out of de house for two weeks.

"I craved for pork and got arter a half belonging to a white man. I had both dose feet wid me, and I order got dat pork and got away wid it, but dar was a slip up. Dat white man got me instead, and I went to jail for a month.

"I was courtin' a powerful fine col'd gal. Dem rabbit's feet order brought me luck. Did dey? Not much. When I axed dat gal for her heart and hand she throwed me down for a cross eyed nigger dat didn't know a possum from a persimmon.

"I worked till I had $30 in my pocket, and den I started out to buy a mawl. Dem rabbit's feet was wid me. I found a mawl and planked down de money and led him home. Jest as I got home I turned around and disklathered dat I had been leadin' a cold gan to play with de cat, but after taking two or three turns across de floor he said:

"And my sister Mary is dead, and my Uncle Jim, and my Cousin Betty—yes, dead and gone. I don't s'pose I could find their gravesites if I set out to look for them—dead and gone, and you are playing with dat blamed old yaller cat as if nothing had happened."

She Refuses to Mourn.

"But what do you want me to do?" she retorted. "Is it going to bring the dead to life if I sit down and weep?"

"Hark to that!" he exclaimed after a moment and without having answered her question. "There is a peddler shouting 'Watermelons' at the top of his voice! Just hear him!"

"Why, you have heard him every evening for days and days. He has got watermelons to sell. Probably nine out of ten of them are as green as grass, but let him sell them if he can. The more cholera morbus de better for the drug stores and doctors."

"But the cry goes right to my heart," protested Mr. Bowser. "My poor father died after eating a watermelon and my Uncle Jim because he hadn't any teeth to eat one with. The peddler knows it and is hollering to lead to my grief."

"Don't be childish, Mr. Bowser. The man doesn't even know who lives here. Did I tell you that I wanted to get at my housecleaning next month?"

"And now he's yelling 'Gooseberries'!"

"Well, let him yell."

"But I tell you he knows that Bowser lives here, and he wants to spite me by adding to my grief. It was gooseberry tarts that killed my sister Mary and plain gooseberries that killed my cousin Betty. Betty ate four quarts of 'em right down and next day was no more."

"I don't wonder at it. But let's talk about something more cheerful. Do you think the next congress is going to take up the tariff question?"

Stirred Up by a Song.

Mr. Bowser might or might not have answered the question, but before he could get around to it a hired girl in the next back yard was taking clothes off the line commenced singing at the top of her voice:

"In Scarlet town, wher I was born, There was a fair maid dwelling, And she was known both far and near As lovely Bar-ba-Alleen."

"Great snakes, but must I submit to this?" growled Mr. Bowser as he started up. "Here I come home loaded down with grief and sadness, and a peddler must yell 'Watermelons' and 'Gooseberries' at me from the front and a hired girl must warble a song at me from the back!"

"But have patience," coaxed Mrs. Bowser. "These people know nothing of your sadness. See, the peddler has driven on and the girl has stopped singing. Let me ask you a question, please. Did you partake of any fall tonic today?"

"And my sister died after eating gooseberry tarts!" he murmured as he wiped his eyes anew.

"Answer my question. Did you have any fall tonic this afternoon? Did any one recommend a tonic to take your grief away?"

"T-e-s, just a little tonic. It was for my lame back. I took about a table-spoonful."

"Um! I thought so."

"And it has made me sad-s-a-d."

"I see. Well, let me put you to bed, and you'll wake up in the morning feeling all right."

"And I won't be sad no more?"

"Not a sad. You won't even remember whether it was gooseberry tarts or pumpkin pie that did the business for your sister. Come on."

"Yes, I will come on. Mrs. Bowser, you are sho good—so good—that I cry for you!" M. QUAD.

CITY BREVITIES.

Rev. R. L. Semans, of Kendallville, is in the city.

Alexander Johnson is in Ohio attending the convention of state charities and corrections.

John Heiny entertained the members of the E. P. club at his home on East Wayne street last evening. After a brief business meeting at which Raymond Huffman was initiated, each of the boys sang a short song. Excellent refreshments were served and a general good time participated in by all. The club now consists of Jacob Hartman, Paul Lauer, Leonard Bueter, Louis Aurentz, Will Harber, Carl Hartman, Edward Moser, Charles Manett, John Heiny and Raymond Huffman.

THE MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 8.—Wheat prices advanced during the early trading today as a result of brisk demand by several leading commission houses. The buying was based mainly on the continued dry weather in the southwest. The advance carried the December delivery just the dollar mark, several sales being made at 100c. The opening on September was 1/2c lower to 1/4c higher at 99 1/2c to 99 3/4c.

Receipts from the government report December opened 1/2c higher at 49 1/2c and sold up to 49 3/4c.

Provisions were firm despite liberal receipts of live hogs at several packing centers. The strength of wheat and corn induced considerable buying by outside firms. The market for hams was also a bullish factor. October ribs were an exception to the rule, being weak on realizing sales.

The Close.

"HAFFNER'S MALT" BREAD

WE ARE BUILDING A BREAD TRADE

of such proportions that home baking is rapidly becoming the exception rather than the rule. The very best of home bakers have learned that our bread is at least as good as any they can bake. It is cheaper, too. Try a loaf or two and then tell us, if you can, why you should bother with baking when we do it so well and cheaply for you. Our "Malt Bread" is for sale everywhere at 6c straight. One price to all.

KING TAKES A CHANGE.

Roumanian Saloon Keeper Afraid to Take Chance With Skelton.

Morris King, whose saloon in the rolling mill district is a never-ending source of annoyance to the police and the sheriff, was afraid to take a chance with Judge Skelton in the city court this morning where he was arraigned on charges of permitting minors to loiter in his place and filed an affidavit asking a change of venue. The cases were set down for trial tomorrow morning. There are several affidavits against King and he had some difficulty in obtaining an attorney as two lawyers declined to defend him.

Dairyman Christ Prange was convicted of delivering milk in the city above a temperature of 50 degrees and was fined $10 and costs. The fine was suspended.

Charles Murray, who came into court with a sprained ankle as the result of a huge jag, was fined $5 and costs. Charles Bodey had the same fine handed to him. John Gorrell was fined $1 and costs and the fine was suspended.

WORSE, MUCH WORSE.

"Is it true that the Blopions are living beyond their income?"
"Worse than that; they're living beyond their credit!"

FELL DOWN ELEVATOR SHAFT.

Howard Noll, a young man residing near the Bass farm and employed on the second floor of the Becker Paper company's plant on Columbia street wrongly supposed that the elevator lift was in place yesterday afternoon and pushed a truck load of paper into the shaft. The truck was jammed in the shaft, but young Noll plunged head first to the first floor, a distance of twenty feet, alighting on his head and shoulders. He was rendered unconscious, but was able to be removed to his home after being attended by Dr. J. A. Hetrick.

The elevator had been lowered to the first floor by some other employee of the company, who did not know that Noll intended using it.

WOLF & DESSAUER

Dress Goods, 25c to $2.50

"Thorough"—That's the motto at the Dress Goods Department. Whether it is the finer fabrics, many in exclusive weaves, or the popular-priced goods, you'll find it rings true to every touch.

Rich Autumnal colorings are seen in every weave—Burgundy, Amethyst, Edeson Blue, Mole, Flaupe, Electric and Soft Greens and Greys.

At 25c

Diagonals and pencil stripings—neat, pretty weaves that are good for school dress and shirt waist suits.

NOVELTIES AT 50c

We think our line of 50c Dress Goods the strongest ever shown in the city. It is astonishing how great a variety there is, both in plain and fancy effects.

NOVELTY SUITINGS

Suitings 54 inches wide, in handsome dark effects, adapted for coat suits. Without doubt the best value ever offered at the price—$1.00.

NEW CHEVRON STRIPES

Beautiful fabrics with the stripes suggested by the weave; chevron and diagonals; several grade; priced at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

MANNISH MIXTURES

Perfectly adapted for the smart tailored suits are these mannish mixtures. The quiet dark shades, firmness of material and entire serviceableness make them sought after; 46 inches wide—$1.25.

LONDON SHRUNK BROADCLOTHS

Permanent spot-proof finish; 54 inches wide; handsome new colorings—$2.50.
